EDITORIAL The Age Of The Superpowers

The era of the superpowers in the record industry is upon us. With the move by A&M to RCA for distribution, amid indications still more indie labels are about to opt for branch set ups, it appears that a handful of multinational corporations are the entities to watch in the business.

CBS, WEA, RCA, Polygram, EMI and MCA. These are the firms that have divided up the pie and will fight it out for market share.

As the cost of business has increased, fewer and fewer companies have been able to justify the expenses involved in the day-to-day operation and expansion.

This age in the record business brings us back to the '50s when Columbia, Mercury, Decca and RCA monopolized the charts. Then, rock 'n' roll appeared and the structure went through a transition, only to end up in a similar position today.

There will always be an opportunity for the aggressive individualist in the industry, because it is a creative business dependent upon creative people. New companies, new musical trends and other things will continue to keep the record industry off-balance.

So, now that we are in the age of the "supersellers," we have the superpowers to perpetuate this new era.

A&M Records Inks With RCA; Pressure Mounting On Indies

Indies Say Loss 'Bearable,' But Foresee Changes

by Randy Lewis

LOS ANGELES — The loss of A&M Records as an independently-distributed record label, equated by one distributor to the departure of Warner Bros., Elektra and Atlantic in 1970, is serious, according to most of A&M's former distributors, but it's a loss they will be able to handle.

"I still think we can survive," said Eugene Silverman, president of Music Trend Distributors, reflecting the feeling of a majority of the indies. "Indie distributors have taken blows like this in the past and have survived very well. I have no intention of folding up our tent."

More Resources Now Available For Artists, Says Moss

by Alan Sutton

LOS ANGELES — A&M Records, the leading independent label owned by Herb Alpert and Jerry Moss, left the indie fold last week and announced a distribution agreement with RCA Records and the formation of RCA and A&M and Associated Labels.

The new distribution system, which will operate under the RCA Records banner, takes effect Feb. 15. RCA also will be the principal manufacturer of A&M records and tapes under the pact.

(At presstime, it was learned that A&M senior vice president Bob Fead has joined RCA as a divisional VP, sales and distribution.)

A&M chairman Jerry Moss, during a press conference Jan. 17 at the Beverly Hills Hotel, said the company will continue to act independently in all other areas except distribution. He said there was no exchange of stock under the agreement.

"On a creative basis, RCA and A&M will continue to be competitors," Moss said. "This (agreement) is just a way of getting records to market."

He added that the pact does not affect any of A&M's companies outside of the U.S., nor its existing overseas licenses.

Moss went on to stress that the move was purely a matter of economics. He said in no way was it a reflection on the performance of A&M's year-old west coast distribution facility, A&M Pacific, Inc.

"A&M Pacific was the best branch in the country, a model distribution outlet," said Moss. "But the expense was formidable, and the cost involved in gearing up

Caution Is Byword For Small Indie Labels As Trend Toward Branch Distribution Continues

by Aaron Fuchs

(In today's increasingly big music business, it sometimes seems that the small, independent label is headed for obsolescence. Within the past few months alone, several indies either have been absorbed by the majors, have opted to become production companies, or have filed for reorganization under Chapter 11. In the first of a two-part series, Cash Box examines some of the difficulties that small labels encounter in trying to stay afloat.)

NEW YORK — As shown by a recent Cash Box survey of independent record manufacturers, the species as a whole is alive and well. But those that are surviving have all had to learn how to cope with a decreased share of a marketplace that is increasingly dominated by the majors.

To be sure, the chances of success declined greatly with the size of the label. Jerry Osborne, who publishes The Record Digest, experienced failure with an independent label venture. Osborne collected a number of 45s that paid tribute to the memory of Elvis Presley, organized the best of them into an anthology album entitled "To Elvis, With Love Still Burning," and capped the concept by pressing the record as a picture-disc with a portrait of Presley on the album.

The concept, coupled with initial sales, resulted in a distribution deal with the powerful Pickwick corporation, and Osborne's success with the disc seemed insured. But it was only the beginning of his troubles. "We had 21 distributors, and Pickwick ordered like it was a monster," said Osborne, "but out of orders for 20,000, we could only deliver 1,500 copies. Pressing plants place a much higher priority on jobs they do for the majors, which involve the pressing of 50,000 records, as opposed to ours, which were just a few thousand. After an initial pressing, one plant told me directly, 'We don't want your business anymore.'

"Then, even if you can deliver your order," Osborne continued, "you have to wait 90 to 120 days for your distributor to pay you, so you in turn are unable to press more records. When distributors see that you aren't coming with any more records, they have nothing to lose by making you an even lower priority. I have been waiting for over six months to be paid by some distributors, and a couple have even told me that they are not going to pay me at all. I'll never do this again."

Low Priority

Richard Foof, a co-owner of the Los Angeles-based Rhino Records, has also experienced the problems of being small and independent. "We're a low priority to whomever we do business with. During the pressing crunch in October and November, we couldn't get our records pressed. Then

High Court Hears CBS vs Perf. Soc.

by Joanne Ostrow

WASHINGTON, D.C. — The eight-year-old suit over blanket licensing for television networks by ASCAP and BMI culminated in 90 minutes of argument before the Supreme Court on Jan. 15. It will be several weeks before the high court issues a decision.

The case, which ultimately could affect the world's music performers and copyright owners who are accustomed to dealing under the traditionally accepted blanket licenses, has a long history.

In 1970, CBS sued the performing rights societies on grounds of price fixing; it lost the case in a 1975 New York Federal District Court decision. The district court held that blanket licensing is not per se a form of price fixing in violation of antitrust laws. The court also found that as long as composers and publishers are free to negotiate a per-use contract on their own there is no price fixing by ASCAP or BMI.

But in 1977, U.S. Appeals Court overturned the lower court's ruling, siding with CBS, saying the licensers had to offer the network optional per-use licenses along with blanket licenses.

Last fall the Supreme Court accepted ASCAP and BMI's petition for review and last week heard oral arguments from representatives of ASCAP, BMI, the Justice Department (emphasizing the benefits of blanket licenses) and CBS — a total of 45 minutes for each side.

Oral Arguments

ASCAP attorney Jay Topkis reviewed the

Ed Hynes

Hynes Appointed VP Of Promotion At Columbia Label

NEW YORK — Ed Hynes has been appointed vice president of national promotion for Columbia Records. Hynes succeeds Bob Sherwood, who left Columbia two weeks ago to join Phonogram/Mercury Records as president of the label.

In his new position, Hynes will supervise the activities of Columbia's national promotion staff and direct the label's local promotion managers, while initiating and developing promotion campaigns for various artists on the label roster. He will report directly to Joe Mansfield, vice president of marketing for Columbia.

Commenting on the appointment, Bruce Lundvall, president of the CBS Records Division, said that "Ed takes on his new responsibilities with a wealth of experience in promotion and sales. His achievements and steady growth within the CBS Records organization clearly demonstrate his broad expertise in the record industry."

Hynes previously served as director of national sales and artist development for Columbia. He joined CBS Records in 1965 as local promotion manager in the Hartford, Connecticut, branch, and moved to Boston in 1966 in the same capacity. He has also served as regional promotion marketing manager, northeast region, for CBS Records.

CBS Organizes Havana Festival, Set For March

NEW YORK — A Cuban-American music festival will be held in Havana in early March. The three-day festival is the first undertaking of its kind in over 20 years. The festival will consist of three three-hour concerts, scheduled for March 2,3, and 4 at the 4800-seat Karl Marx Theatre. The concert will be headlined by American artists Billy Joel, Weather Report, the Fania All-Stars, and the CBS Jazz All-Stars. Cuban artists performing will be Irakere, which made its American debut at the last Newport Jazz Festival, the Orchestra Aragon, Los Papinos, Ballet Folklorica, and guitarist Leo Brower.

The concerts will be recorded by CBS Records, which arranged for Irakere to come to the U.S. to record and perform, and which initiated exploration of the Cuban music scene with several trips to Havana last year.

The Pointer Sisters, famous for reviving the nostalgic tunes of the '30s and '40s and for wearing funky, thrift store threads, have changed their old ways. The girls have a new label, Elektra/Asylum's Planet Records, a new album, "Energy," and a new hit single in Bruce Springsteen's "Fire."

The sisters grew up singing gospel in the choir of the West Oakland Church of God, Europe. The sisters released six albums for ABC between 1973 and 1977, two of which, "The Pointer Sisters" and "That's A Plenty" went gold. For "Fairy Tale," a country hit, the girls received a Grammy Award in 1975.

Anita, June and Ruth (Bonnie is now pursuing a solo career) have thrown over their Andrews Sisters style for the classics of contemporary rock. "Energy" features the trio singing songs by Steely Dan, Stephen Stills, Loggins and Messina and Sly Stone. The girls' intricate harmony work and smooth vocal style is, as always, evident, but as Anita Pointer says, "This is the first time we've really been able to express our musical tastes and feelings on an album."

Currently "Fire" is #10 bullet on the Cash Box Top 100 Singles chart, while "Energy" is #63 bullet on the album chart.

Sherwood Intends To Raise Profile Of Phonogram, Inc.

by Ken Terry

NEW YORK — Robert Sherwood, Phonogram/Mercury's new president, feels confident that the company will be able to grow and become more successful than it already is. By building on the label's strengths, signing some major acts and adopting an aggressive promotional stance, Sherwood intends to take the Chicago-based company right to the top.

"I want Phonogram/Mercury to be the noisiest and most exciting company on the street," he said. "Excitement is real important to me. I expect to generate it from the top and have it carry right on through. I think we have to turn on our distribution organization, let them know we're really serious about a record and get their attention so it gets out and it sells and makes all the moves a record has to make to be successful."

At the same time, Sherwood emphasized the fact that he is taking over a well-established company with a proven track record. "There are certain companies in this industry that are in some difficulty," he commented, "but this is a very healthy company. I have no preconceived notions about people who will not stay there, because the company's functioning. Whether it's as hot as the company would like it to be, I think, is open to some question. Certainly there could be more records on the charts. I can't tell you what the product flow is going to be over a period of time. But my first thought is that the whole company is going to be based on music. I want this to be the most musical company in the industry. And that's up to the people who are there and any we acquire along the way."

Sherwood added that he is not planning a personnel shakeup at Phonogram/Mercury. "As far as I'm concerned, the staff that's there and I are going to grow together. Any changes in that philosophy will probably take a while to hit the surface. But I'm not coming in with any feeling except, 'Here we are, and let's go farther.' "

Distribution Muscle

A very important factor in Phonogram's ability to attract both established acts and new, promising talent, Sherwood stressed, is the power of Polygram Distribution. As shown by the unprecedented sales of RSO's "Saturday Night Fever" and "Grease" albums, Polygram has proven that it can sell as many units of a given

Hathaway's Death Termed Suicide

NEW YORK — Donny Hathaway, the 33-year-old Atco recording artist, died Saturday, Jan. 13 after he fell from the 15th floor of his Essex House hotel room on Central Park South. According to a police spokesman from Manhattan's Midtown North precinct, the death has been determined a suicide.

Hathaway's most recent hit was a 1978 duet recording of "The Closer I Get To You" with Roberta Flack, which has been nominated for a Grammy Award. In 1972, Hathaway received a Grammy for his collaboration with Flack on the album, "Roberta Flack And Donny Hathaway."

Hathaway recorded five albums for Atco, two of which, "Donny Hathaway Live" and "Roberta Flack And Donny Hathaway," were certified gold by the RIAA. Hathaway also scored, conducted and composed the soundtrack for the film, "Come Back Charleston Blue," and worked prolifically as a producer and arranger with such artists as Curtis Mayfield, Jerry Butler, Aretha Franklin and the Staple Singers.

NEW FACES TO WATCH

Marshall Hain

"Dancing in the City," Marshall Hain's debut single on Capitol/Harvest is the kind of song — like "Kiss You All Over" and "I Love the Night Life" — which embodies the romance of rock and roll. The record's appeal is enhanced by the virtuosic yet economic style of keyboardist Julian Marshall and the elegant, soulful vocals of Kit Hain (who is reminiscent of Christine McVie.) Their forthcoming album, due out at the end of this month encompasses an appealingly broad range of stylistic elements.

This diversity is due in no small part to the complementary contributions of Hain and Marshall. Although they knew each other in school, by the time they started collaborating musically, Marshall was playing keyboards with jazz-rock groups while Hain was working as a waitress by day and singing in wine bars by night. Marshall needed someone to put lyrics to his growing collection of songs, and Hain fit the bill. After auditioning a demo tape, they signed with EMI Records in 1977 and have continued their ascent to stardom ever since.

"It's strange that the record is just beginning to take off now," says Hain. "The album is already nine months old, and the band has progressed way beyond it."

For Hain, musical progression has been a parallel to her entire life. The daughter of an opera singer, she learned piano as a child. As a pre-teenager she joined her first rock band, playing bass, and at 17 she began writing her own songs. She also fooled around with the guitar, but "I didn't really take it seriously until a few years ago." She spent several years studying psychology at the University of Durham and, after completing her studies, returned to London, where she worked at a series of odd jobs. "I thought to myself, 'I'm not going to get anywhere like this, it's now or never.' I started taking my songs to a publisher, who liked them. Then, when I met up with Julian, and we began to pool our resources, the publisher was impressed enough to have us go into the studio to record a demo. We took the demo around ourselves, and Mark Rye, who was A&R at EMI, liked it. We went back into the studio again and made the tape that got us a contract." Rye, incidentally, has since gone on to become the group's manager.

Despite the success of "Dancing," life has not been the proverbial bowl of cherries for the band. After the group returned from their first tour at the end of 1978, Marshall left the band. "Frankly," says Hain, "Julian freaked out when 'Dancing' became a hit. He's really into a Keith Jarrett thing on the keyboards, and when he came back from our first tour, he decided being on the road with a band was not what he wanted to do." Fortunately, the group was able to find a replacement almost immediately. John Cook is an experienced keyboardist whose background includes stints with Stretch, Slack Alley, and Mungo Jerry.

Patrice Rushen

Patrice Rushen was 3 years-old when she knew what she wanted to be in life. Her parents had enrolled her in a "eurhythmics" class at USC, a class in which music is taught through emotions — instead of major and minor, there were happy and sad chords. The musician's emotions led her to play classical piano recitals at age six, study jazz improvisation at 15 and record her first solo album, "Prelusion," by the time she was 19.

Now, at the ripe old age of 24, she has released her fourth album on a new label, Elektra/Asylum. The album, simply entitled "Patrice," is an escape from her earlier jazz outings and has a more pop/commercial sound. The record, besides showcasing her singing talents, also features her arranging, producing and lyric writing skills.

Preferring to call herself a music person, Rushen is very quick to explain her change in style. "The new album allows people to see more of the total Patrice," she proclaims. The "Total Patrice" stands barely five feet tall, but her credits as a musician are towering. She is already recognized as one of the great ladies of jazz, having lent her keyboard talents to accompany the likes of Stanley Turrentine, Lee Ritenour, Jean-Luc Ponty, Sonny Rollins and Flora Purim.

Although her influences range from Debussy to Hancock, the new album combines elements of light jazz, funk and pop. "Patrice" now appears simultaneously on Cash Box Jazz and Black Contemporary charts.

Bored by the piano, after seven years of practice, the 12 year-old prodigy decided to take up the flute. She brought that instrument to the jazz lab band at Locke High School in Los Angeles. It was there that she met Reggie Andrews and got involved with his Msingi Workshop. (Msingi means "root" in Swahili.) Andrews, who put Rushen back in touch with the piano, has been a tremendous influence on her career, she says. Along with Charles Mims Jr., he helped produce the "Patrice" album.

According to Rushen, the new album is the first time she has had the time and the budget to express herself artistically, and at the same time be commercially successful. "On my earlier albums, I worried about my playing, but on this one I concentrated on the music as a whole concept," she says.

Rushen recently recorded with Hubert Laws and John McLaughlin. However, her greatest honor came this year when one of her biggest idols, Herbie Hancock, asked her to join his touring band. "I would have happily done it last year, but now I have to concentrate on my own direction," she says.

Concerned over her new musical direction and the public acceptance of it, Rushen adds, "Musicians are people too and the public should respect their ability to be creative in other areas of music. If people will accept this change, then you won't have frustrated artists and musical stagnation."

ASCAP Sues Over Non-Payment For Use Of Multi-Speakers

NEW YORK — ASCAP has brought separate lawsuits in three federal courts against locations suspected of using multiple speaker radio systems.

Infringement Suit

One of the suits, instituted under the new Copyright Act, was brought against two Gap Inc. clothing stores in Manhattan. The California-based chain, which operates 286 clothing stores in 34 states across the country, is charged with the infringement of six songs. Another suit was filed in Chicago against Cal's Inc., which operates three restaurants called Cal's Roast Beef and Cal's Corn Fed Beef in the Chicago suburbs of Alsip, Waukegan, and Wauconda. Cal's is charged with the infringement of 12 songs. A third suit was brought in the federal court for the district of Maine against Kevin Inc. and its president, Kevin Adams, for the alleged infringement of eight songs. The company operates a store called the Kittery Trading Post in Kittery, Maine.

ASCAP has asked that the defendants pay statutory damages of at least $250 per infringement, in addition to costs and attorney's fees. Currently, locations are asked to pay $90 for the first three speakers and $18 for each additional speaker, up to a maximum of $780 per year.

E/A Pushes 'American Prayer' LP With Radio, Retail Promo

by Peter Hartz

LOS ANGELES — With the release of Jim Morrison and the Doors' "An American Prayer" album last November, Elektra/Asylum has attempted to re-focus perceptions of Morrison as a premier rock poet of the 1960s. Supporting this campaign, Elektra utilized in-store posters and a unique series of radio-sponsored playback sessions in 11 major markets. As a result, the album which is stickered as a "collector's item" is now enjoying broad retail response.

E/A and WEA kicked off the campaign with a 10% discount on the entire Doors catalog in December. This program followed some initial internal promotion within WEA in which regional sales managers held playback sessions for branch personnel to acquaint them with the unique album prior to the LP's Nov. 21 release.

Labor Of Love

The birth of the poetry project was a labor of love undertaken by six close Morrison associates. Robby Kreiger, Ray Manzarek and John Densmore of the Doors were joined by film maker Frank Lisciandro, engineer John Haney and Corky Courson, who controlled the Morrison estate, to bring the project from its inception two and a half years ago to the LP's release.

In 1971, Morrisón and the Doors were in the studio working on the "L.A. Woman" recording sessions. Intermittently, Morrison went in alone with engineer Haney and recorded his poetry. Months later in Paris, Morrison was dead at 27, the victim of an apparent heart attack. Knowing Morrison's desire to be recognized as a poet, the Doors worked with the tapes from the 1971 sessions and wrote new musical accompaniments. As a result, the project shed new light on the poet behind the rock and roll legend.

Frank Language Problem

Due to the frank language contained in the LP, Elektra/Asylum devised the playback sessions concept in which participating stations held ticket give-aways to attend listening parties in local recording studios. For its 100 seats, WNEW in New York received 7,000 postcards in the first week of airing the ticket give-away. KMET in L.A. received 4,000 cards to attend the listening session at S.I.R. soundstage. Other participating stations were WCCC, WBCN, WIOQ, DC 101, WXRT, WBUF, WABX, KLOL and KSAN.

To circumvent the four letter word stigma, Elektra/Asylum edited the album for radio. Included on the commercial version are tracks of the Doors live in concert. "Roadhouse Blues," in particular, has received considerable radio attention. The track is expected to be released as a single Jan. 23. A gate-fold single will also be released shortly in England.

The press response to the album has become another important aspect of the E/A campaign. In addition to receiving favorable reviews, E/A ran a national print campaign and a blanket of national radio spots, concentrated in six breakout markets, to announce the arrival of the LP.

To bolster international appreciation of the project, the three members of the Doors went on a promotional tour of England in November. In addition, sensing the relevance of the LP to college radio, playbacks were held at three college radio conferences. Another avenue of exposure is planned for late February or early March when Jim Ladd conducts a four-part series on the Doors for his "Innerview" syndicated radio program. The efforts to promote "An American Prayer" are expected to benefit the entire Doors' catalog which already sells one million units a year, according to Stan Marshall, vice president of sales for the label. Despite the "collector" sticker, E/A is hoping to introduce Jim Morrison and the Doors to new pop buyers.

"We want to reach the guy who has never heard of the Doors before," says Bill Siddons of Siddons Assoc., who was retained by E/A to assist marketing efforts. Siddons was hired by the Doors in 1968 as their manager and he considers the project a coming together of old friends.

RCA Corp. Posts Record Results For Last Year

NEW YORK — RCA Corp. posted its best results in the company's six-decade history during 1978. Net income rose 13% to $278.4 million from $247 million in 1977, while sales increased 12% to $6.65 billion from $5.92 billion in the previous year.

Net income for the three months ended Dec. 31, 1978, rose to $75.2 million from $65.5 million in 1977. Sales for the fourth quarter reached $1.85 billion, compared to $1.66 billion the year before.

RCA Records played a major role in the good performance of the company's Consumer Electronics Products and Services division, which was also aided by RCA's SelectaVision home video cassette recorder.

Three Certifications For Columbia Artists

NEW YORK — Columbia Records has achieved three RIAA certifications. Toto's debut album, "Toto," went platinum; Billy Joel's 45, "My Life," went gold; and Cheryl Lynn's 45, "Got To Be Real," also went gold.

Williams Gets 1st Gold

LOS ANGELES — ABC recording artist Lenny Williams has received his first gold album certification by the RIAA, for "Spark Of Love." It is his second LP for ABC.

EAST COASTINGS

EAST COASTINGS — IT'S THE REAL THING — Despite the dawn of the disco age, the blues as a viable musical form has been holding up remarkably well. In New York last week, there was plenty of evidence that the blues is, indeed, alive and well received. George Thorogood sold out the Bottom Line for two shows, and created the same kind of raw excitement in person that have made his two Rounder albums left field hits. Roger Earl of Foghat and John Hammond, Jr. were among many industryites in the audience, digging Thorogood's thoroughly infectious interpretations of rhythm and blues. There are some complaints that Thorogood limits himself too much by sticking to period songs, but that policy certainly hasn't hurt the Blues Brothers, who have astounded the industry with a platinum certification and a number one record. Besides these two feathers in their cap, Dan Aykroyd and John Belushi were featured on the cover of the New York Daily News Sunday Magazine. Besides being the only musical group featured on the recent "Best of Saturday Night Live, part one," news has just come in that Jake and Elwood will play at the influential R&R Convention on March 3 . . . Meanwhile, unaided by the notoriety of network television, the Nighthawks, a burning blues band out of Washington, D.C., recently played at the Rocker Room at 48th St. off 5th Ave. and tore the place down with versions of Elmore James and Muddy Waters songs, as well as renditions of Otis Reddings' "Scratch My Back" and the Temptations' "I Can't Get Next To You." The Nighthawks, who have recorded for Adelphi, have just finished an album with John Hammond Jr. on Vanguard, and are eminently worthy of a major label contract of their own.

GINO SOCCIO AND RAY CAVIANO — Warner/RFC has signed its first artist, Gino Soccio. His first album, "Outline," will be released in February. Pictured are (l-r): Soccio and Ray Caviano, president of Warner/RFC.

NAMES IN THE NEWS — Frankie Crocker returned to WBLS-FM, and was feted at a Studio 54 bash . . . Kiss set to act as grand marshalls for the New Orleans Mardi Gras parade . . . Joining John Mayall on his debut DJM album will be the Brecker Brothers, Cornell Dupree and Lee Ritenour . . . Seen in Atlanta during a hockey game, carrying a sign reading "Are We Not Men? We Are Rangers!": Tom Morrera, WNEW-FM music director . . . Robert Gulllaume, who plays Benson the butler on "Soap," has been signed to a record contract with Tomato . . . Jerry Goldsmith will score the soundtrack for the version of "Star Trek," now set for a Christmas '79 release date . . . Billy Terrell, Robin Lane and Glen Ballard have pacted with MCA Music Publishing . . . Danny Sugarman will revise Jerry Hopkins' biography of Jim Morrison . . . February is Buddy Holly month in Dallas . . . It's official, in case you didn't know: David Essex and Tom Jans have been dropped by Columbia . . . Cash Box alumnus Phil DiMauro gets well deserved credit on Atlantic's January release slick for his percussion work on Midnight Rhythm's "Workin' & Slavin' " track. "It was sweaty," DiMauro commented.

MANHATTAN WINNERS — Winners of the Manhattan Music Playoffs: Roc, a rock group; Seville, an eight-man soul band; and Innervisions, a jazz-rock-Latin fusion band. Roc, led by vocalist Hedda Goodrich, will record a single for Infinity Records, play a week at the Riverboat and appear on a DIR broadcast. The contest was a brainstorm of borough president Andrew Stein to shore up the image of Manhattan's music industry.

ARE THESE TRENDS, OR WHAT? — In movies — Bob Marley can now be seen in two films: "Roots, Rock, and Reggae" with Jimmy Cliff and "Bob Marley Live at the Rainbow." Also from England, Johnny Rotten is reportedly being considered by Chris Blackwell for a screen role in a Saturday Night Fever-type movie with a Jamaican twist . . . the Beach Boys' debut album for Caribou said to be "a disco-flavored song," and look for old Sly and the Family Stone tracks to be re-issued as disco 12-inch . . . UA in England has released a single by Fonograf, the new "country and eastern rock band from Hungary" . . . Peter Gabriel turned delivery man when a snow storm hit his hometown of Woolley Bath, England. He was the only guy in town with four-wheel drive . . . An Atlanta radio station got in hot water with the FCC when a broadcasting minister was accused of giving out numbers while citing chapter and verse from the Bible . . . Finally there's Tonio K., a new artist on EPA, who offers a bizarre twist on Southern California mellowness, as evidenced by the title of his debut album, "Life In The Foodchain." Tonio's lyrics set him apart from the pack, as the man is a rock absurdist if there ever was one. Appropriately, EPA publicist Elliot Hubbard is trying to arrange a listening party in the Dadaist room at the Museum of Modern Art.

SYLVESTER AWARDED GOLD — Fantasy Records recently presented Sylvester with a gold album for his "Sylvester II" record. Jobete Publishing songwriters Eric Robinson and Victor Osborn, who co-wrote the single "Dance Disco Heat," were also on hand for the celebration. Pictured (l-r) are: Robinson; Sylvester; and Osborn.

IN THE STUDIOS — ELO and Barry Manilow have just taped TV specials for HBO . . . Harry Nilson was joined by guest artists Steve Cropper, Ringo Starr and producer-turned-artist Sean Delany on sessions for his latest album . . . Down in Miami, Ted Nugent, Pat Travers and Nantucket are in at Quadrail Studios . . . Tim Curry tries again, and is in the studio for his second A&M album . . . Ellen Foley, who did studio work with Meat Loaf, is recording her debut album for Cleveland International.

IT HAD MEANING — Our last winning entry in the "most significant musical events of '78" reader nominations comes from Pat Cox, associate director of publicity at Atlantic. Cox picks the signing of Irakere by Columbia, which she feels made Americans more aware of the musical influence of Cuba and Caribbean cultures (not to speak of potential new markets); and also the Stiff Tour at the Bottom Line at the end of December. Why Stiff? "an example of irreverent, innovative and intelligent — yet commercially viable — music making and staging."

Japanese Cheap Trick Album Released in U.S.

NEW YORK — Epic Records is rush-releasing Cheap Trick's "Live At Budokan" Japanese album. Recorded live during the group's 1978 tour of Japan, the elaborately packaged album was initially intended for release by Epic/Sony exclusively in Japan. But, after import sales here that are estimated at 25,000, Epic decided on an $8.98 list domestic release.

Cooper Sets Plans For 'Madhouse Rock' Tour

LOS ANGELES — Alice Cooper has announced plans for a tour titled "Madhouse Rock," based on his album "From the Inside" and his experiences in a mental institution while recovering from alcoholism. The tour budget is $900,000 and the stage show will include film, back projection, stage props and special effects.

The 18-date first leg of the "Madhouse Rock" tour has been set, beginning Feb. 11 in Grand Forks, N.D.

Deadline Extended On Mechanicals

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Following "substantial clarification of the difficult accounting issues" involved in the Copyright Office's proceeding on mechanical license, the time for written statements has been extended. The new deadline is Jan. 31.

Representatives of the recording and music publishing industries, who clashed at the office's November hearings, are expected to meet privately to "attempt to refine or resolve" some of their differences, according to the Register of Copyrights.

DJM Signs John Mayall

LOS ANGELES — John Mayall has signed a recording contract with DJM Records and will release his first album for the label, produced by Bob Johnston, early in 1979. Guest musicians on the LP include Gordon Edwards, Lee Ritenour, Cornell Dupree of Stuff, the Brecker Brothers and Steve Jordan.

POINTS WEST

POINTS WEST — THAT'S THE WAY IT WAS — "Heroes of Rock & Roll," produced by 20th Century-Fox for ABC-TV, is an outstanding capsulization of rock 'n' roll's colorful history. The nearly two-hour long film spans all the way from pre-rock figures who nonetheless influenced its development (such as the great footage of Hank Williams doing "Hey Good Lookin' ") right up to the most current forces in popular music, both disco (represented with shots of Donna Summer), new wave (with an Elvis Costello segment) and straight rock 'n' roll as represented by the clip of Bruce Springsteen & the E Street Band from their summer 1978 tour. Considering many recordings of early television shows have been destroyed, it is remarkable that the producers were able to come up with as many performances of the early rockers as they did. The show, understandably, devotes generous space to The King of Rock 'N' Roll, Elvis Presley, from the familiar Ed Sullivan and "Jailhouse Rock" scenes, to rare footage of Presley in concert shortly after signing with RCA. Another moment that was a personal favorite was a segment showing Steve Allen, on his old show, reading the lyrics to Gene Vincent's "Be Bop A Lula," which segued neatly into a clip of Vincent and the Blue Caps performing the song. "Heroes of Rock 'n' Roll" also gives a comprehensive look at the parallel development of R&B, from Frankie Lyman & the Teenagers to Little Richard to James Brown to The Temptations to Otis Redding to Aretha Franklin to Donna Summer (although the abscence of Sam Cooke was felt). It's a show that absolutely should not be missed when it airs in February.

SPEAKING OF ROCK 'N' ROLL GREATS — Jerry Lee Lewis, who provides another highlight in "Heroes of Rock & Roll," has been in Los Angeles recently recording his first album for Elektra/Asylum since signing with the label last summer. This is the first in a long time that he's done outside of Nashville and he is also working with a new producer, Bones Howe. The session lasted only four days. Howe said, "We started at 11 o'clock on Thursday and finished Sunday afternoon at 2." While there will still be some overdubbing, editing and mixing, "The Killer" usually likes to record his albums virtually live because, as he is fond of saying, "Making a record is like making love to a woman: You can't go back and overdub." The album should be out in March.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY HARRY — Songwriter Harry Warren was saluted by ASCAP on his 85th birthday recently at Mr. Chows' in Beverly Hills. He was honored with a plaque and fellow songwriter, Sammy Cahn, parodied some of Warren's songs which include "Lullabye of Broadway" and "I Only Have Eyes For You." Pictured (l-r) are: Arthur Hamilton, ASCAP board member; Warren and Cahn.

JAMMING WITH CHARLIE -- Members of Lynyrd Skynyrd joined the Charlie Daniels Band on stage last week at the Volunteer Jam in Nashville for an instrumental version of "Free Bird." The concert drew 13,000 fans . . . While on the subject of southern rock bands, wondering what happened to Atlanta Rhythm Section? The group was supposed to have released a two-record live set shortly, but when band members Buddy Buie and Robert Nix got together and started writing some more over the past couple of months, they got so excited about the new songs, they have persuaded Polydor to hold off on the live album so they can put out another studio LP by March. The live album, though, will not disappear and will likely show up in the fall.

GOOD STREET TALK, KIM — We received an unexpected phone call last week from L.A. producer/persona Kim Fowley who was in New Zealand at the time producing a new group from that country called Street Talk. The band has a deal with WEA in New Zealand and Fowley hopes to lick up a deal for the rest of the world soon. He told us he's been getting enthusiastic response from every one who's heard the group. Bruce Springsteen, whom Kim said he reached by phone in his hotel room, heard a brief bit of a tape and reportedly said, "Sounds pretty good, Kim." Cleveland International's Steve Popovich, on hearing Street Talk over the phone, commented, "That's hot rock 'n' roll, Kim." Greg Douglas of the Steve Miller Band responded, "Not bad, Kim." George Young, of Vanda/Young, said, "Good rock 'n' roll, Kim." And our own Dale Kawashima, who was lucky enough to hear a tape of the band by phone from half way around the world, replied, "Good rock 'n' roll in the Southside Johnny vein, Kim." Others who received long distance calls from New Zealand included Rolling Stone's Dave Marsh, Phil Spector and MCA A&R man Harvey Kubernik, who said, "I don't mind a phone call at 3 o'clock from New Zealand. I just wish it had been at 3 p.m. instead of 3 a.m., Kim." Keep up the good work, Kim.

SHORT TAKES — Elton John's next single will be "Song For Guy," an instrumental track from his "A Single Man" album which has been climbing the charts in Great Britain and Australia. The "B" side of the single will be a previously unreleased song, "Love Sick" . . . Con Funk Shun will be honored in the group's hometown of Vallejo, Calif. next month when "Con Funk Shun Day" is proclaimed . . . A New Orleans-based group, L'il Queenie & the Percolators, has signed a long-term deal with Almo Music Corp., the publishing arm of A&M Records, because the publisher feels the band's songs will soon land the group a recording contract. L'il Queenie and company have been playing concerts in the region, opening for the likes of Louisiana's Le Roux and Jerry Jeff Walker . . . Correction: In an LP review in last week's issue, we got the instruments of two members of Brownsville reversed. Cub Koda, as he will proudly tell you, plays guitar, while Michael Lutz handles the bass . . . While in Atlanta, Nigel Olsson rolled his dune buggy in Atlanta recently and in the process crushed one of his fingers. That didn't stop him though from performing the following weekend . . . Fee Waybill, lead vocalist of The Tubes, has been signed to play a supporting role in "Simon," a Marquee International film described as a "surrealistic fantasy feature picture." The entire group will make a cameo appearance and record one of the songs for a soundtrack LP . . . The 2nd Annual Bay Area Music Awards will take place this year Jan. 30 at the Galleria in San Francisco.

L.A. SHUFFLE UPDATE — It looks like Pete Jones, recently appointed regional vice president at Polygram, will go the Casablanca Records as vice president of marketing . . . Paul Fishkin apparently has left the helm of Bearsville Records and may be announcing a new partnership and/or venture shortly . . . Over at MCA, in the wake of Bob Siner's appointment as label president, new positions are popping up. Russ Shaw is in the new post of vice president of artist development, while Santo Russo will handle the newly-created vice presidency of product development . . . The latest indie label-to-the-majors rumored pairings has ABC and Chrysalis to MCA, Arista with EMI and Motown and CBS associating . . . In other developments: A&M issued its first batch of bar-coded product last week, with the release of five albums . . . The Clash will play the

A&M Records Pacts With RCA For Distribution

The indies also said they harbor no ill feelings for A&M chairman Jerry Moss or vice chairman Herb Alpert, and that they understand their reasoning for joining RCA Records' branch distribution network.

"Jerry and Herb decided they wanted to be in the business of making records rather than in the business of distribution," commented one former independent distributor.

Predict Change

But while most said they will be able to handle the loss of A&M, some distributors feel a restructuring of the indie network and a change of attitude on the part of the remaining indie labels is the only way to ensure a secure future for independent distribution.

Many indies expressed the hope that labels such as Arista, Motown, Chrysalis, Fantasy and TK, among others, would choose to reduce the number of their independent distributors and give those they retain greater territory to handle.

This would most likely result in fewer indies overall, but the distributors said this would be the best way of strengthening the others enough to withstand any more losses. Even though many executives of the indie labels said they have no plans to change or go with one of the branch labels for distribution, rumors of departures of ABC, Motown and others have caused the indie distributors to feel the "super-distributor" is the wave of the future for them.

Dealing With G.M.?

"God help all of us if we only have to deal with General Motors, Ford and Chrysler," analogized one major retailer. "If it weren't for the indies, where would the Hearts and THP Orchestras, who started with indie labels and are now on majors, be?

"If there wasn't independent distribution, then young entrepreneurs like a promotion man and a trumpet player will have lost the best avenue to do their own thing. They'd have to go with the majors, and that's much more difficult," the retailer said.

Since A&M had a branch operation on the west coast, the independent distributors hardest hit by the move are those in the south and midwest.

All-South

"It's a severe blow," says Warren Hildebrand, owner of All-South Distributing Corp. in New Orleans. "It's something that will take some adjusting and getting used to. But I don't know about it being a death blow. Things like this come in cycles, so I think 1979 is going to be a crucial year for us to see what happens."

Hildebrand said the exact percentage of business that A&M represented to All-South was not known, but the move to RCA would not hurt his firm as much as it might some other indie distributors because All-South handles every other independently distributed line.

"We don't plan any cutbacks in services or personnel, or anything like that," Hildebrand said. "I'm worried, not so much just about A&M, but about it snowballing to include other labels.

"It's frustrating," he said, "because it has nothing to do with efficiency or how we treated them. But a huge corporation like RCA has lots and lots of money to draw on and I guess it takes lots and lots of money to run an operation like A&M."

Even though he said other distributors will be hurt more than All-South by A&M's departure from independent distribution, Hildebrand said, "Because of the independent network, what hurts somebody, hurts everybody."

'Devastating Blow'

Joe Simone, president of Progress Distributors, said, "It's a devastating blow because there are a lot of personal friends involved. It's like a death of somebody in the family.

"We've made the necessary adjustments to remain a profitable company, but we're obviously not going to be able to replace the volume that A&M represented to us," Simone said.

Simone added that A&M's joining RCA would affect only Progress' Cleveland branch. "Indies will have to regionalize their distributorship more in the future," Simone said, "because they won't have a choice," although the strength of such independently-distributed labels as Motown, Arista, Chrysalis and others will help ease the blow.

"I have no sour grapes about the move," Simone said. "We had seven outstanding years with the label."

Pickwick 'Disappointed'

"We are obviously disappointed with their decision," said a spokesman for Pickwick International's distribution division. "Independent distributors, of course, work on a non-written basis, so labels are always free to do anything they want. But we would have preferred not to see them do it.

"We've had a 16-year relationship with A&M. They are good people and we think we are good people and I guess we'll all be in the industry together," the spokesman said.

"We just would have preferred that they

Roshkind Reports 'State Of Motown' In Indie Address

LOS ANGELES — Following the defection of A&M Records from the ranks of the independently distributed major labels, Motown Records' Michael Roshkind, vice chairman and chief operating officer, has issued a statement strongly reaffirming the company's commitment to independent distribution and denying rumors that Motown is in financial trouble.

"We want to put to rest once and for all the repetitive but totally inaccurate rumors that we were either sold, on the verge of being sold, or that our product will henceforth be distributed by some other major corporation," Roshkind stated.

Roshkind reassured all Motown's independent distributors with a "State of Motown" message via telephone that also included a preview of the label's upcoming releases.

"While I'm certain A&M had good reasons for making the change," noted Roshkind, "Motown will remain steadfast and firmly dedicated to moving its records to the public through a group of the best independent distributors in the land.

"In Atlanta we were partners with A&M in distribution and with their withdrawal, we will announce our plans shortly."

Upcoming Releases

New albums from Stevie Wonder, Diana Ross, the Commodores, Marvin Gaye and Smokey Robinson highlight Motown's 1979 releases, along with albums from such up and coming artists as Rick James, Bonnie Pointer, Switch and High Inergy. Other product the label has high hopes for in-

NEIL DIAMOND (Columbia 3-10897)
Forever In Blue Jeans (3:30) (Stonebridge Music — ASCAP) (R. Bennett/N. Diamond)

Diamond and Streisand scored a #1 song with "You Don't Bring Me Flowers." This track from Diamond's "Flowers" album is a pleasant tribute to "doing OK" without the glitter of wealth and fame. A restrained carnival mood and solid jaunty rhythmic underpinning makes this of immediate Top 40 interest. Strings bolster Diamond's gruff, appealing vocals.

AL STEWART (Arista AS 0389)
Song On The Radio (4:10) (D.J.M./Frabjous Music/Approximate Music) (A. Stewart)

Critics have claimed that intelligent rock and roll is dead on AM radio. Stewart has attempted to prove them wrong. While staying within acceptable bounds, Stewart has had success with melodic, cerebral songs such as "Mind Passages." "Song On The Radio" is a classy blend of sax, gentle vocals, perky beat and good feeling. Top pop shot.

DIRE STRAITS (Warner Bros. WBS 8736)
Sultans Of Swing (4:38) (Straitjacket Songs/Rondor Music/Almo Music — ASCAP) (M. Knopfler)

There has been strong FM interest in Dire Straits. This first single reveals the band's varied influences. The phrasing of the vocals is reminiscent of Lou Reed. The arrangement of moderate beat and excellent guitar work are exceptionally fluid and engaging. Progressive pop programmers take note.

KIM CARNES (EMI America P-8011)
It Hurts So Bad (3:02) (Almo/Brown Shoes/Quixotic Music — ASCAP) (K. Carnes)

This first release by Carnes on the EMI America label demonstrates her raspy and earthy vocals which are reminiscent of Rod Stewart or Bonnie Tyler. A ballad about love that hurts so bad, the track has an arrangement of acoustic guitars, mandolins and sauntering beat. Suited to Top 40.

EDDIE MONEY (Columbia 3-10900)
Maybe I'm A Fool (3:05) (Grajonca Music/Island Music — BMI) (B. Money/L. Chiate/L. Garett/R. Taylor)

Money has emerged as a major force in today's Top 40 rock and roll. This first single from his new "Life For The Taking" LP ought to expand his representation on AM airwaves. A sassy beat, R&B influence and engaging arrangement of strings, sax and rhythm guitar make this a strong Top 40 add. Fine vocals.

HEART (Portrait 6-70025)
Dog & Butterfly (4:47) (Wilsongs Know Music — ASCAP) (A. Wilson/N. Wilson/S. Ennis)

This title track from Heart's current album is a gentle acoustic ballad which rides a melodic verse and acoustic guitar and easy beat backing. The vocals are sensitive, clear and occasionally soaring. Relaxed and silky, this track is a good candidate for a variety of pop lists.

AMII STEWART (Ariola 7736)
Knock On Wood (3:40) (Warner Bros. Music — ASCAP) (E. Floyd/S. Cropper)

This interesting remake by singer Amii Stewart has a driving beat, ticking and taut guitar work, spacy special effects and captivating lead vocals. In 12" form, this track is generating disco excitement; indications are this is an across-the-board possibility. Top 40 watch out.

MYCHAEL (Free Flight/RCA JB-11475)
Stay (2:45) (Tree Publishing — BMI) (Mychael)

With an aggressive bass swirling beneath guitar power chording, this song by Mychael has an interesting texture. Raw edged sax playing adds another dimension to this rock and roll project from Free Flight. The well-directed lyric makes this a good shot for pop attention. With a combination of rock and jazzy influences and solid vocals, this could be a sleeper success.

SINGLES TO WATCH

BONNIE TYLER (RCA JH-11468)
My Guns Are Loaded (3:45) (Scott-Wolfe Songs/Prince of Wales Music — ASCAP) (R. Scott/S. Wolfe)

Taken from the forthcoming "Diamond Cut" album, this single from Tyler of "It's A Heartache" fame is likely to receive pop and country attention. An easy shuffling beat, acoustic guitars, slide guitar solo and characteristically distinctive vocals by Tyler make this worth considering.

MARVIN GAYE (Tamla/Motown T 54298F)
A Funky Space Reincarnation (Part 1) (4:18) (Jobete Music — ASCAP) (M. Gaye)

Gaye's new album is entitled "Here, My Dear." This single is true to its name. Funky and spacy, the track is likely to attract R&B and disco action. Steady high-hat and rocking beat are joined by cow bell embellishments and Gaye's mellow moving singing.

PETER CRISS (Casablanca NB 961)
You Still Matter To Me (Braintree Music - BMI/Kamiyah Music/Happenstance Music — ASCAP) (J. Vastano/M. Morgan/V. Poncia)

This track from Kiss member Criss' solo project is a catchy number which ought to interest Top 40 programmers. With a grabby synthesizer line, jumpy organ backing, good raspy singing and nice arrangement, this track may do well.

ZWOL (EMI America P-8009)
Call Out My Name (3:02) (Mother Tongue Music — ASCAP) (W. Zwol)

Zwol charted with his "New York City" which was strikingly reminiscent of Elton John's rocking arrangements. This track opens with spirited keyboard chording and simple drum set-up. Jaunty beat and a smooth rolling chorus ought to convince doubters that Zwol is his own man. Rough and ready guitar work underlines the strong lead and backing vocals. Top 40 candidate.

CINDY BULLENS (United Artists UA-X 1261-Y)
Survivor (3:57) (Gooserock Music/Fleur Music — BMI) (C. Bullens)

United Artists is hoping to break Cindy Bullens this year and this track may help make the job a little easier. A good rocker, this track has throbbing base line, piano and strong guitar work, and fine lead singing by Bullens. Stout and defiant in tone, this ought to do well Top 40.

FRANK MILLS (Polydor PD 14517)
The Poet And I (3:41) (Unichappell Music — BMI) (F. Mills)

This instrumental is a slow and moving exchange between piano, string and sonorous beat. The pace is gentle; the string and piano phrasing is emotional which is a combination which makes this appeal to beautiful music formats. The track is also gaining pop acceptance.

ORSA LIA (Infinity INF-50,004)
I Never Said I Love You (3:24) (Cass David/Chess Music — ASCAP) (H. David/A. Jordan)

Who is Orsa Lia you ask? A Nashville session singer who was the voice behind the Heinz "Anticipation" commercial. Lia delivers a strong high-rising mood on this ballad. With piano chording, strings, high-hat beat and dramatic move up, this track, produced by Hal David and Archie Jordan, is suited to AC/Top 40.

BOB JAMES (Tappan Zee/Columbia 3-10896)
Theme From "Taxi" (Angela) (3:05) (Addax Music/Wayward Music — ASCAP) (B. James)

Taken from the "Touchdown" album, this TV show theme song has a smooth interaction between electric piano, horns, flute, guitar and drums. The result is a flowing instrumental that may fare well on a variety of charts from jazz to pop.

ROBERTA FLACK (Atlantic 3560)
You Are Everything (3:46) (Assorted Music/Bell Boy Music — BMI) (T. Bell/L. Creed)

While the world is shocked at the death of Donny Hathaway who had just finished vocals on an upcoming album with Flack, Atlantic has released this track from the "Roberta Flack" album. This remake of this song by the Stylistics is a gentle sensitive ballad for R&B and pop lists.

BROOKLYN DREAMS (Casablanca NB 962)
Make It Last (3:22) (Starrin Music/Rick's Music — BMI) (B. Sudano/J. Esposito)

The new Brooklyn Dreams album is called "Sleepless Nights." This first single bears the imprint of this trio's greatest strength: fine harmonies. A steady beat which combines rock and disco patterns is joined by acoustic guitars, string embellishments and good upward movement at the chorus. Top 40 potential.

KAYAK (Janus J278)
Keep The Change (3:38) (Heavy Music — BMI) (Scherpenzeel)

Kayak charted with the appealing "I Want You To Be Mine." This effort features upfront piano work, steady beat, layered vocals and synthesizer backing. The smooth rolling feel is alluring and worth serious consideration for Top 40 play. The LP will be out next week.

SEA LEVEL (Capricorn CPS-0314)
Sneakers (Fifty-Four) (3:18) (No Exit Music — BMI) (J. Nalls)

This track was the B-side of "Living In A Dream" but because of radio interest, Capricorn is releasing "Sneakers" to see which track has the muscle. This track has a fast clip high-hat beat, ticking rhythm guitar backing and more expansive lead guitar work. The piano lines are fluid. Horns round out this instrumental which may appeal to jazz and pop lists.

KEANE BROTHERS (ABC AB-12445)
Dancin' In The Moonlight (3:34) (United Artists Music/St. Nathanson — ASCAP) (S. Kelly)

"Taking Off" is the name of the Keane Brothers' latest album. This uptempo rendition of the song that was a hit for King Harvest is an enthusiastic track which ought to help the Keanes take off on pop lists. Strings, rolling rhythm section and backing singers help make it work.

BONEY M (Sire/WB SRE 1038)
Dancing In The Streets (3:55) (Al Gallico Music — BMI) (F. Farian)

Produced by Frank Farian, this latest effort by German supergroup Boney M is a disco-oriented track which is dedicated to dancing in the streets. Fast rhythm guitar, solid undercurrents, horns and percussion embellishments make this suited to R&B and dancing formats.

ZOO WORLD '79 — In what is certain to be one of the grandest station promotions of the year, KZEW-FM/Dallas will host "Zoo World '79" Jan. 26-28 in the Grand Hall of the Dallas Convention Center. The three-day fair will offer 200,000 square feet of displays, exhibits and music under the general theme of products and services affecting the lifestyle of the young adult. "Zoo World '78" drew more than 150,000 people and advertiser and public service organization commitments to this year's event have increased by 300 percent, according to KZEW.

KZEW is providing continuous live entertainment from local and national groups throughout the event in a specially designed concert arena with a capacity of 3,000, complete with concert lighting and sound system. The KZEW air staff will broadcast live from "Zoo World," from a futuristic booth of chrome and glass with the "Zoo" elephant revolving overhead.

Further information about the event can be obtained from PD Mark Christopher or publicity coordinator Jody Seay at KZEW, (214) 748-9898.

ROCK 'N' ROLL IS HERE TO STAY — Following the departure of George Taylor Morris to RCA/Los Angeles, WPIX-FM/New York has come up with a new program director and a new format. Joe Piasek has been promoted to PD, and he says the station is revamping its AOR format into what Piasek calls "rock 'n' roll radio."

"Rock 'n' roll isn't teen music anymore," explains Piasek, "it's mainstream now, and most post-1955 music is derivative of rock 'n' roll. We'll be playing the best rock 'n' roll, with the accent on the roll. We'll play stuff from the '50s, '60s, '70s and '80s, from Elvis Presley to Elvis Costello. I'm surprised that there hasn't been more rock 'n' roll on the radio here."

WPIX will debut its new format any day now, and there will be, of course, the inevitable staff changes at the station as a result.

FTC PSA'S — The Federal Trade Commission (FTC) has recommended to the FCC that the Commission consider requiring broadcasters to air a minimum number of public-service spots daily to "effectively complement" the "large volume of intensive advertising . . . designed to sell goods and services" by providing information about nutrition, health and safety and legal rights.

New requirements are needed, according to the FTC, because despite existing incentives, "broadcasters' duty to air PSAs . . . remains a theoretical obligation that is not realized in practice." The FTC proposal would also impose new record-keeping duties on stations.

DISCOMANIA — Century 21 Programming is installing its "Electric Disco Format" on two automated stations this week. "106 Kicks" FM in Dallas and "Zap 1-2-3" AM in Columbia, S.C. have made the move to 24-nour disco.

" 'The Electric Disco' has been a special Saturday night show on our automated stations since 1973," explains Dave Scott, Century 21 VP/GM, "so Century 21 already has a giant library of disco 12-inch singles on tape. We've merely expanded it from a weekly feature to full daily programming." Automation time checks plus produced promotions and TV spots are included in the package.

A free demo is available by calling (800) 527-3262.

Also on the exploding disco front, Heftel Broadcasting recently purchased WWEL/Medford, Mass. and switched its simulcasted AM-FM format to all-disco Jan. 14. The station has changed its call letters to WXKS and is now consulted by Burkhart/Abrams.

Crocker Explains New 'BLS Format

NEW YORK — In the face of rumors that WBLS-FM will be switching to an all-disco format, new music director Frankie Crocker last week explained the format he will be implementing at the Inner City station.

"I will be instituting the 'Frankie Crocker format'," said Crocker. "If I hear it and I like it, I'll play it on the air. I will, of course, be including some disco, because disco is what's happening, but I'll be playing other things as well."

Last week was Crocker's first week at WBLS in almost two years and he said he was very glad to be back. "I enjoy being on the air (Crocker is WBLS' new afternoon drive personality) and I don't find that it interferes with my programming duties."

Crocker also noted that he will be getting involved with the music programming on all of the stations owned by Inner City, and those currently being acquired. This includes WLIB/New York, WLBS/Detroit (formerly WBRB), KRE/Berkeley and KKTT-KUTE/Los Angeles, in addition to WBLS.

WBLS, which had been challenging traditional market leader WABC in the first half of 1978, has seen its market share suffer recently as all-disco WKTU-FM has blossomed. Crocker's return to the station is part of a large-scale personnel realignment at Inner City Broadcasting.

CKLW Appeals Court Decision In ARB Case

DETROIT — CKLW/Windsor, Ont. has filed a notice of appeal in Federal District Court in Detroit appealing the Dec. 29 decision denying CKLW's request for a preliminary injunction that would have required Arbitron to continue to list CKLW as a "home" station in the Detroit market. CKLW has charged Arbitron with restraint of trade and with occupying a monopoly position in the radio audience measurement field, in violation of the Sherman Anti-Trust Act.

The Court held that CKLW had "failed in their burden of showing irreparable injury. Plaintiff's (CKLW's) main concern is the loss of advertising revenue. This is a type of injury that is adequately compensated by monetary damages."

The filing of the notice of appeal is the first step in the appeal process, which is expected to take months to resolve.

Burke plans to add at least 10 and as many as 20 more markets in the fall. The company hopes to cover the remaining top 50 markets by spring 1980.

Indies Feel Loss Of A&M

not make that decision."

Music Trend Committed

"A&M was a significant part of our business in Michigan and northern Ohio, but we feel that we can afford the loss and stay in business," said Eugene Silverman.

He also said despite the loss of A&M's line, he is firmly committed to staying in the independent distribution business. "I've been in it for 16 years and hope to stay in it another 16 years," Silverman said.

"Indie distributors have taken blows like this in the past and have survived very well. At one time, Warner Bros., Elektra and Atlantic were indie labels and when they left they represented to indies probably what A&M represents today," he said. "Yet indie distributors were able to survive that."

Silverman said Music Trend has handled A&M since its inception, "starting when they only had about four or five records, so I kind of grew up with them. I have prospered very well through the product and efforts of A&M, Herb and Jerry, and when they leave here, I don't feel they owe me anything.

"I owe them the vote of gratitude for the opportunity that enabled me to distribute them for 16 years," Silverman commented. "I understand why they had to make the decision they made. Historically, when a label reaches a certain size, the probability is that they will seek the shelter of branch distribution. Casablanca is a prime example. I wish A&M every success. It's not the end, but quite possibly the beginning of a rebuilding period for the independent distributor.

"There are always new entrepreneur record producers who want the freedom and flexibility of indie distribution," Silverman said, "and those people could in fact become the Jerry Mosses of the future."

Two other major indie distributors, M.S. in Chicago and Alpha in New York, offered no comment on the move.

Most of the remaining major independently-distributed labels surveyed said they were satisfied with the service they have from the indies and, for the most part, had no intention of changing in the near future.

"I don't see it having a major effect on us," said Elliot Goldman, executive vice president of Arista Records, "because the number of independent distributors we share with A&M is very small. I'd say it's only two or three that are involved.

"It doesn't effect our thinking about independent distribution because it's working very well for us. Our approach is basically the same as it's always been," Goldman said. "We have our own promotion staff and local marketing people and we work closely with our distributors."

He said in cases where distributors handled both A&M and Arista, it might be considered a "plus" because "they will have more time to work our product."

While he said "We are constantly reviewing our policy," he also said, "A&M's move has done nothing to make us want to change the way we are doing things."

Motown

Mike Lushka, senior vice president of marketing for Motown Records, said, "Independent distributors have been good to us (and) I think there will always be a need for them, especially for small labels who are just starting out."

He did suggest, however, that "indies may have to get into promotion and marketing, get more aggressive and return to breaking new artists like they used to" to help themselves compete with branch-distribution.

Fantasy

Fantasy Records won't feel any significant effect from A&M's move, according to Phil Jones, the label's vice president of marketing, "because A&M was only in three places we are in. Now it's up to indies to get off their butts and penetrate markets like they used to.

"The handwriting could be on the wall," Jones said. "It should be an interesting year. Fantasy hasn't talked to anybody about leaving independent distribution — we'll stay where we are as long as it's profitable.

"We all get a little bit nervous when a company like A&M defects from the ranks, but there's still enough business left for them to make a go of it. It's scary," Jones said. "People stick with indies until someone offers them enough dollars to leave.

"We are one of the few independently-distributed labels with an extensive catalog, so we're getting better treatment than we used to. But," he added, "it's clear that everything is moving away from the indies. Only the indies themselves can turn things around."

Roskind Reports State Of Motown In Indie Address

clude Billy Preston's first Motown album and a tie-in with Syreeta and a forthcoming Columbia Pictures release, "Fast Break."

"Pops We Love You," the new single performed by the superstar foursome of Stevie Wonder, Diana Ross, Marvin Gaye and Smokey Robinson was also spotlighted by Roshkind as "a historic moment dedicated to fathers everywhere . . . destined to become a perennial Father's Day gift disc."

Indie Reaction

Reaction to Roshkind's message from independent distributors was "vibrantly supportive," according to the label.

"Motown and Alpha are a good team and you don't break up a good team," said Harry Apostoleris of Alpha Distributors in New York. "We've been places in the past and we're going places in the future."

Chuck Smith, president of Pickwick International, said, "We'll stand shoulder-to-shoulder and go ahead full steam. We're a great combo and I'm very, very happy we're going to stay that way."

Gordy's Involvement

Roshkind also denied reports that Motown founder and board chairman Berry Gordy is not involved in the company any longer.

"Nothing could be further from the truth," indicated Roshkind. "He sets the tone, the philosophy of everything we do . . . He doesn't physically come to the office very often because that's his style. But wherever he is, that's where our headquarters are. To say Berry isn't working at Motown anymore simply because he isn't in the office is like saying President Carter isn't working when he's at Camp David."

MERCHANDISING

Sample NARM exhibit (above) shows cross merchandising of audio software, both conventional LPs and picture discs, with hardware such as car stereos.

New NARM Session Will Spotlight Merchandising

NEW YORK — An audio-visual presentation entitled "Partnership Creates Opportunity" will be shown at the general business session of the 1979 NARM Convention. The film will highlight "the merchandising opportunities that make themselves available to each segment of the industry when a real partnership exists between the manufacturer and the merchandiser," according to Joe Cohen, executive vice president of NARM. Examples of successful "partnerships" will be demonstrated by a panorama of visuals illustrating these opportunities.

Committee Members

Members of the NARM Merchandising Committees who worked on the presentation include its chairman, Stan Marshall, executive vice president of Elektra/Asylum Records; Dan Davis and Walter Lee of Capitol Records; Lou Fogelman of Music Plus; Ron Oberman of Columbia Records; Richard Lionetti of the WEA Corp.; Lee Weimar of Alta Distributing; and Arnie Orleans of ABC Records.

Major Chains Report Christmas Sales Gains

NEW YORK — The nation's major retailers posted strong sales gains for December, particularly the days closest to Christmas. K mart's volume rose 18% compared to the prior-year period; J.C. Penney's sales rose almost 12%; Montgomery Ward had an 8.8% gain; and Woolworth's sales rose 12% in the five-week December period. Sears, Roebuck & Co., the nation's largest retailer of general merchandise, posted a smaller decline than in recent months, 2.2%. The company said that December's sales were compared against exceptionally strong sales a year earlier, when volume rose 21% from that of the year-earlier period.

Other retailers reporting sales gains in December were: May Department Stores Co., 16%; Zayre Corp., 13%; Wal-Mart Stores, 26% (9% on a comparable-store basis); and City Products Corp., a unit of Household Finance Corp., 19%.

Everybody's Records Co-Promoting Shows At Portland Venue

NEW YORK — Everybody's Record Co., the six-store record retail chain based in Portland, Oregon, has joined with Double Tee Promotions to promote a series of concerts at Portland's newly remodeled Euphoria Tavern. The series, titled "Everybody's Great Concerts," will begin with appearances by Columbia recording artists Jules and the Polar Bears, Tom Scott and Steve Kahn. It is the first such venture between a concert promoter and a retail chain in the Northwest market, according to Michael Reef, executive vice president of the chain.

"We're always looking for original ways to promote new artists," Reff said. He added that "offering the artists' albums at the concerts is the most direct way we know of enforcing our commitment to new music."

New Atlantic Product Shown In Eight Cities

NEW YORK — Atlantic Records launched its January release promotion campaign entitled "You've Never Been Hit So Hard," with a series of special product presentations in eight cities, including New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Atlanta, Cleveland, Chicago, Dallas, and Los Angeles January 8-12. Teams of Atlantic representatives, headed up by Eddie Holland, vice president and director of special markets, made the presentations to all WEA personnel, all Atlantic R&B and pop regional promotion directors and managers, and key radio, press, retail, and disco pool personnel.

The campaign was supported by heavy radio time buys and extensive print ads and a variety of merchandising material, with special artwork incorporating the "You've Never Been Hit So Hard" theme.

In addition, two specially edited and segued samplers were prepared by Issy Sanchez, national director of disco promotion and disco A&R coordinator, to showcase Phase I, which features current hit disco product, and Phase II, which features January releases.

be recognized as a poet. Jim's words were always the root. The Doors music was incredibly sympathetic to their feeling. The idea of putting together the band started at Venice Beach (in L.A.) when Jim read 'Moonlight Drive' to Ray (Manzarek)."

In late 1970, Morrison and Jac Holzman of Elektra agreed that Morrison would proceed with making a poetry album.

"Poetry was the other side of Jim. He was frustrated creatively at that time. He chaffed with the rock star image and he was constantly testing life to the limit. To straighten things out, Jim decided to go to Paris and write. He didn't finish the poetry album and he didn't come home."

Because of his closeness to Morrison and the project, Siddons is frustrated with the censorship which is necessary to get the LP accepted at radio. Because of the nature of the material, E/A openly admits that the LP has limited rack appeal.

"We hated artistically to put out the edited version but it was necessary. We did however service the edit with the commercial album to radio so that they would know the difference."

NAMES IN THE NEWS — Ariola is reorganizing its structure to give more direct attention to the New York market. Tarquin Featherstonshaw is leaving the L.A. office to become east coast disco director for the label. Steve Stoff will continue to concentrate on the retail connection in N.Y. Howard Holben has joined Ariola as west coast disco coordinator, working with Jack Witherby who is the national disco director. "New York is a complete entity in and of itself," says Witherby. "We need the personal touch there to bring records home." Ariola will be setting up New York offices which will include A&R and a full range of functions. The move is expected to strengthen Ariola's A&R affiliations with foreign sister labels . . . To beef up its New York representation, Butterfly has hired independent promoters Steve Bogan and Bruce Marcus . . . Tampa Bay Disco Pool has officially opened its Orlando offices. Jim Chapman, DJ at Park Avenue, is the office coordinator. Guy Keating, DJ at Phineas Phogg's, is assistant coordinator. Both clubs are new in the Orlando area. Park Avenue is part of the Uncle Sam chain . . . Bob Siegel at Warner/RFC has been named manager of special projects in addition to assistant to Caviano. In his A&R capacity at WB/RFC, Vince Aletti is off to MIDEM . . . Lily and Len Ron Hanks (of Grey & Hanks) had a nine-pound baby girl Jan. 15. Reportedly, Bianca Monique Hanks is already "dancin'." . . . Mark Rosenbaum who spins at the Exile in Washington, D.C., is in this week's Disco Breaks' DJ spotlight. The club is the capitol's only afterhours disco. Mark who has been at the club for 10 months, says a new dancefloor is the next major project for the Exile.

DISCO RADIO UPDATE — As reported last week, Frankie Crocker has re-joined WBLS which has strengthened its disco format. An important force in the surge of BLS several years ago, Crocker will be music director and will also hold a 4-8 p.m. air spot. A monster party was held last week at Studio 54 to kick off the renewed relationship . . . To update lists, K101-AM in San Francisco went disco sunrise-to-sunset recently. The MD of the former AC/Top 40 station is Nadine Shaw. Tom Williams of BADDA is consulting on the 'live' format . . . Kent Burkhart and Wanda Ramos have a new station for their consultancy. WXKS-AM in Medford, Mass. went 24-hour disco last week. REVIEWS

MIDNIGHT RHYTHM — Midnight Rhythm — Atlantic SD 19214 — LP — List: 7.98

The production team of Joe Long and Robbie Adcock have produced some of the most exciting pure disco sounds in recent memory. "Workin' & Slavin' " is a masterful orgy of excitement. "Hallejulah 2000" is an opus which will stand the test of time. Now comes the follow-up to "Workin' " — the new Midnight Rhythm album. The three new tracks "Midnight Rhythm," "Climb" and "Rushin' To Meet You" are stunning, energetic accomplishments. Long, a master of intensity, directs the movement inexorably upwards towards bursting moments. Hodges, James & Smith provide some fine vocals throughout. "Rushin' " has a particularly appealing vocal passage. The arrangements of rhythm guitar overlays, keyboards, strings, demanding beat and vocals make this LP a certain addition to progressive lists. Jump on this one. (P.S. Roxy Myzal of Atlantic is the sultry lounger precariously perched on the cover.)

SAINT TROPEZ — Belle De Jour — Butterfly 016 — LP — List: 7.98

Rinder & Lewis provide exceptional musicianship and direction on this new Saint Tropez album which features Jean-Paul Vignon. The LP has a wide-ranging appeal that ought to enjoy strong disco and radio response. "Fill My Life With Love" is a beautiful well-executed track that will likely receive disco radio exposure as will "One More Minute" which is a possible track for 12" remix. These two tracks reveal the increased commerciality of this effort over the last Saint Tropez outing. Side Two has an expansive European feel with French lyrics and sweeping arrangements. Throughout the LP, Bob Etoll on guitar, Lewis on keyboards, Rinder on percussion and David Williams on bass are flawless.

WAME Goes Contemporary Christian

NASHVILLE—Radio station WAME in Charlotte, N.C. switched to a contemporary Christian format Jan. 1, 1979. The former country radio station was purchased by the Jimmy Swaggart Evangelistic Association and Broadcasting Company, which owns eight radio stations across the country

Jeff Flanders, spokesman for the Swaggart Association, described the station's format as MOR Christian music. It will play no secular music, but neither will it play an overabundance of preaching programs. He said there will be no more than one 15-minute program in a given hour. The station will be geared primarily towards easy-listening Christian music. Flanders also said, rather than running an automated show, the station will have air personalities.

"People have noticed the change in the station." Flanders said. "Our phones have been ringing with people asking what's happened to the station and saying they like it. Suprisingly we have held a lot of our audience."

Flanders added that the audience is not the only group favorably responding to the change. Businessmen are also commenting on it.

Overwhelming Response

"The response has been overwhelming," Flanders said. "Many of them say that they are going to be playing us in their businesses. I feel very optimistic that we can sell commercials like a secular station."

The radio station will be a non-profit organization. Any profits will go back into the Jimmy Swaggart Evangelistic Association.

Bob McGee of WPJS, Orangeburg, S.C. will be the station's new manager. He has 10 years of managing and sales experience.

The station's mailing address is: WAME, P.O. Box 32068, Charlotte, N.C.

DOTTIE RAMBO — Concert Of Love — Heartwarming R3533 — Producers: Jim Van Hook & Don Hart — List: 6.98

Dottie Rambo is becoming predictable. Every album she does has the same denominator — they are all great. Her boundless energy and enthusiasm for what she does is infectious. If the listener doesn't watch it, about halfway into the first cut on side one, "I Go To The Rock," Dottie will have those ears in the palm of her hand. Fans have come to expect excellence from Dottie, and if any gospel aficionados are out there who don't know Dottie's music, "Concert Of Love" will hook 'em.

LOUVIN BROTHERS — Songs That Tell A Story — Rounder 1030 — Producer: Charlie Louvin — List: 6.98

In 1954, the gospel act, the Louvin Brothers (Charlie & Ira), had a short-lived radio show. Of the 16 tapes, Charlie managed to salvage six. A quarter of a century later Rounder records shows its class by releasing "Songs That Tell A Story." This album explodes out of the past with an unadulterated, pervasive sensitivity and naturalness that has been crossed out by most modern recordings in the mad scramble to cross over. Louvin Brothers' music is experiencing a revival because of folks like Emmylou Harris (she recorded five Louvin Brothers songs), and this recording should greatly add to the ranks of their admirers.

VARIOUS ARTISTS — The Witness — Light LSX-5739 — Producers: Jimmy Owens & Bill Cole — List: 10.98

"The Witness" is the greatest story ever told, arranged in musical format by Jimmy Owens, who also co-authored and produced the two-record set with Carol Owens and Bill Cole, respectively. Barry McGuire is featured as Peter along with Anne Herring as the apostle's wife, and Jamie Owens-Collins as Mary. Other well known names in gospel music appear in substantial supporting roles. Among them are Steve and Tim Archer, Carol Owens & Matthew Ward who portray important Biblical characters. Contemporary gospel music grew out of a need to witness to a new generation and the Owens have fulfilled that need with dignity and reverence thereby creating a bridge instead of a gap.

ANDRUS, BLACKWOOD & CO. — Following You — Greentree 2R3515 — Producer: Phil Johnson — List: 10.98

"Following You" is a special two-record set featuring Sherman Andrus and Terry Blackwood & Co. (Karen Boegtlin, Bob Viliareal — both vocalists — Rock Laughlin and Tim Marsh.) AB &C have succeeded where so many groups fail. They sound like they belong together. Producer Phil Johnson has capitalized on this asset and coupled their smooth harmonies with some of the best sidemen in Nashville and may have come up with the prototype (from a technical standpoint) album. When you have the kind of group that can make weak material strong (as in a few of the cuts) you're dealing with exceptional talent and "Following You" is an exceptional album.

instituted the changes. With an AM-FM simulcast arrangement, Tom Hoyt, president of Heftel, feels the station will make immediate inroads into the market. Sonny Jo White, former PD of WILD, is holding the musical reins . . . Bob Pantano of Philadelphia is deejaying a "live mix" show seven days a week at WCAU-FM . . . WZZD-AM in Philadelphia ("Wizard 100") shifted to a "personality disco format" recently. Mark Serpas is the MD. Century 21 Programming installed its "Electric Disco Format" on two automated stations last week. "106 Kicks" FM in Dallas and "Zap 1-2-3" AM in Columbia, S.C. have moved to the 24-hour taped format. "Electric Disco" which was originally a Saturday show has expanded to a format.

CASABLANCA AND STUDIO 54 DEAL — Reportedly, Steve Rubell and Ian Schrager of Studio 54 have signed a distribution deal with Casablanca for their blossoming interests in forming a label. The first record is expected to be "Saturday Night At Studio 54," which will be a two-record compilation set of music played at the club.

THE 12" CONTROVERSY — "The biggest issue for the disco retailer is the enormous problem of 12 inch singles that are not for sale and cannot be found on LPs," says Dale LaPedus of Music City in Atlanta, Ga., which reportedly stocks 3,000 12-inch titles and also features a dancefloor in the store. "I am considering approaching NARM (National Assn. of Recording Merchandisers) to investigate the possibility of suing labels for false advertising. People come into the store and want a record they heard at the disco. The charts say the record is out there and I have to say to the customer that the record he wants is not for sale. It's a total turn-off and if they buy the LP, they return it and want the disco version they heard." It is currently common practice by many record companies to release promo only 12 incher remixes of tracks on albums. In some cases, the single has been re-structured or altered to such extents that the LP version is pale by comparison. This has unsuspecting consumers angry with purchases and retailers upset at being trapped in the middle. "They have every right to be upset," says Craig Kostich, national promotion director of Warner/RFC. "That marketing tactic of spare the 12" and sell the album is misleading. We had a meeting about the problem and we're not going to be caught in that situation." Kostich cited Casablanca as a model example of how to handle a difficult situation. With the second pressing of the "Hunchback" album by Alec Constandinos, Casablanca included the special remixed 12" along with the regular record. Other albums have been updated to include the popular versions. However, disco retailers are boiling mad about the on-going problem.

The Southern California Disco DJ Assn. is holding its 3rd Annual Disco Music Awards at the L.A. Biltmore Hotel Feb. 14. The affair is open to the public with a $25 attendance fee . . . The American Music Awards was televised recently. Donna Summer won Female Disco Artist of the Year; "Last Dance" — Disco Single of the Year; "Live & More" Disco LP of the Year; Village People — Disco Group of the Year; and Isaac Hayes — Male Disco Artist of the Year. Marc Kreiner and Tom Cossie celebrated a joint birthday with a hot party Jan. 20 at Hard Time Charlie's in L.A. The party spilled over later in the night to the Probe where Edwin Starr performed. Vincent Carleo is no longer spinning at Probe. Larry Rossiello is the regular DJ but the Probe is looking for another DJ, according to Eddie Garetti manager of the hot club. Howard Merritt will guest DJ Feb. 24. Ricky Ybarra guested Jan. 19. Mike Lewis has reportedly left Circus in L.A.

CONGRATULATIONS RICHIE AND ADELE — Richie Kaczor, DJ at Studio 54 in NYC, married Adele Caporali on Jan. 11. Long-time sweethearts, the couple will vacation at a later time.

NEW NEW YORK CLUB — A new N.Y.C. disco called "Hell" opened last Friday. Located at 14th and Hudson, the club is located in a front which used to be The Triangle bar about 10 years ago. Howard Merritt spun opening night and is expected to be a regular. Jorge Vilardell worked the lights but will take up DJ duties also. Frank Monteagudo handled sound.

Sherwood Intends To Raise Profile Of Phonogram, Inc.

record as any organization in the business, said Sherwood.

An equally important factor in the bidding for superstar acts, of course, is the willingness to meet the offers of the competition. And here, Sherwood indicated, he is also counting on the backing of Polygram. "One thing I feel going into this job is that whatever it takes to do the job I'll have," he said. "And that obviously means money. I'm not going to be able to waltz into the door and say give me $20 million for McCartney or $20 million for Fleetwood Mac without having good reason for it and thought it out pretty carefully. But I do know that the company is going to pursue artists — both major, already established superstars and just sounds that we're very enthusiastic about. Were I to try and sign six Fleetwood Macs in a row, it would probably be the banks that would be the first to hold up their hands. But I feel no discomfort in the fact that, if we're going to play like the big kids and have that kind of success, then we have to get in the arena and swing like them, too."

Not Just Money

Sherwood added that, although money is a crucial element in this game, it is not always the determining factor. "When you get up into the stratosphere, I don't know whether the millions start becoming meaningless. There are so many artists signed who say, 'It wasn't the money.' Well, I think that's true to a degree. If there's too much of a difference between offers, they're going to leave you for whoever's offering the most; but still I think every artist wants to know their music is appreciated and is being brought to the public the way they want it brought to the public. And if you come down to it, the three distribution networks (WEA, CBS and Polygram) will probably do the same, or very close to the same."

Asked how involved he will personally be in artist signings, Sherwood replied, "I don't know yet. I do think, however, that there are very few major signings that don't have some kind of involvement by the head of the label. So I'll get as involved as I have to in order to get the people we need . . . If I was dealing with somebody that I've had some success with before in a previous role, then obviously I'd get in there and try to close the deal. Because I just think that all artists — especially the major ones that are on the block — want to know from the head of the company that they're going to get a real commitment."

Traveling Executive

Part of this commitment on Sherwood's part will be maintaining contact with all the people who support each act on the label. And keeping in touch with them, as the new chief executive sees it, will involve almost constant travel. "You're going to find me away from the desk more than at the desk," he said. "I don't think a music company executive can be successful without traveling around and seeing artists, producers, managers, attorneys, promoters and all the key people."

While he wouldn't state that "Phonogram's artist roster is due for a trimming," Sherwood did point out that he will apply rigorous standards to his A&R decisions. "The biggest concern I have is growth, and growth takes on many guises. The simplest one is sales. If you picked up an act three years ago and they were selling 50,000 and they're at 300,000 now, that's good, positive growth. It's a reason to continue (with that act), I would think. If you picked up one that was (selling) 200,000, and it's gone to 150 or 100,000, then something's wrong."

At present, Phonogram is strong in black contemporary and country music, and Sherwood intends to build on those strengths. During his years as a promotion executive for Columbia Records, however, he was also heavily involved with rock 'n' roll, and he noted that Phonogram/Mercury will actively pursue rock acts if they believe they can be successful with them. One source of new rock talent for Phonogram, he indicated, might be the company's worldwide affiliates.

Sherwood is also keeping an open mind about disco, which, in his view, has been boosted by the increasing interest of the major labels in disco acts. "I don't know what the top is in disco," he remarked. "But it's certainly true that a company which is steeped in R&B has a greater chance of being successful with disco."

In conclusion, Sherwood reaffirmed his interest in creating a powerful, yet personable organization. "I would love for Phonogram/Mercury to be seen as the embodiment of a company that has everything going for it in terms of distribution resources, and yet is personable enough and has enough music people so that it is the one place you would want to bring your music to, knowing that it will get the proper attention and care. If we could do that, it would be ideal."

Kirshner To Host

cians are in a position to contribute their time and energy to help those less fortunate than themselves. I'm very excited to be a part of this event and will do everything I can to involve as many rock personalities as possible."

Last year's telethon raised $8 million. A viewing audience of 50 to 55 million people is expected this year. The National Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults, now in its 60th year, has raised more than $25 million since 1972 to help fund a nationwide network of rehabilitation centers, camps, transportation services, equipment loans, workshops and special education courses.

Executive producers of the telethon are Woody Fraser and Ken Greengrass.

During his 20-year career in the music industry, Don Kirshner has been involved in virtually every aspect of the business. He now heads his own record company in addition to his TV series, now in its seventh year. Klugman won two Emmy awards for "The Odd Couple" and now stars in NBC's "Quincy."

Labels Announce Signings; Monument Inks Sonny James

by Bob Campbell

NASHVILLE — Veteran country artist Sonny James, with 20 years of top-selling songs under his belt, has signed a long-term recording contract with Monument Records, to lead a host of record-contract signings which were announced by companies here last week.

As part of a production deal between Curb Records of Los Angeles and Elektra Records here Elektra Nashville head Jimmy Bowen announced the signing of Susie Allanson and Hank Williams, Jr. In addition, MCA announced the acquisition of veteran country artist Faron Young, and Cyclone Records, the new west coast label operated under the umbrella of the Jim Halsey Co. in Tulsa, Okla., has signed Sammi Smith as the label's first artist.

Also, Jeff Walker, vice president of operations for Con Brio Records here, announced the signing of Scott Summer and Chester Lester to the independent label.

Monument president Fred Foster, who announced the signing of James, said the move was an indication of a new direction for Monument in 1979.

New Direction

"The recording business has changed," said Foster, who has produced Roy Orbison, Dolly Parton and Larry Gatlin (among others) in the course of his career. "All my staff in the marketing, sales and promotion areas are in agreement we are in a new era, and we plan to be on top of things. Our aim is quality, not quantity. Sonny James fits this image. Somehow, Sonny has the uncanny ability to anticipate trends and to change with the times. He is at all times and at all stages of his career.

BOBBY BARE (Columbia 3-10891)
Heallin' (3:20) (Hall-Clement Pub. — BMI) (Bob McDill)

Bare is taking on more of a pop sound these days without losing the individuality which has established him as a successful country artist. This Bob McDill tune is a good vehicle to drive Bare to the top of the country charts and possibly over into the pop charts.

EMMYLOU HARRIS (Warner Bros. WBS-8732)
Too Far Gone (3:28) (Al Gallico Music Corp. — BMI) (Billy Sherrill)

Emmylou has always been a favorite at country radio and now, with a Billy Sherrill-penned song, even more country stations will add this cut immediately. This is from her album "Profile," produced by Brian Ahern.

SUSIE ALLANSON (Elektra/Curb E-46009)
Words (3:14) (Casserole Music — BMI) (B. Gibb/R. Gibb/M. Gibb)

Susie, Ray Ruff, Oak Productions and Curb Records make their debut in the new affiliation with Elektra Records. This single is already getting a lot of adds at radio just from acetates. Susie's vocals are excellent, but like the most recent Gatlin singles, this record could prove to be more pop/MOR than country.

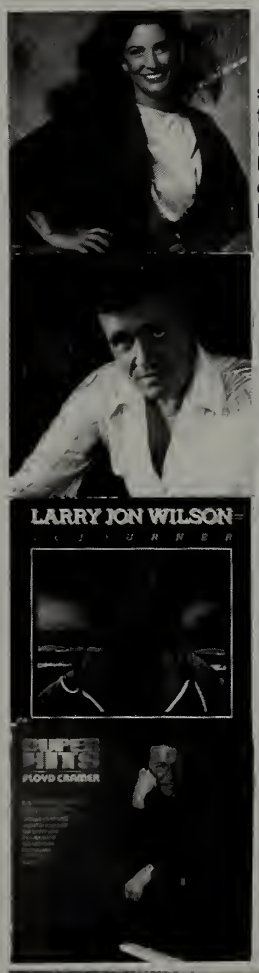
NITA Presents Its First Showcase For Talent Buyers

NASHVILLE — The Nashville International Talent Agency held its first annual talent showcase performance here last week at the Colonial Melrose House for some 20 major talent buyers from Florida, California, Texas and other states.

Artists

The talent buyers viewed three showcase performances by artists Joe Sun, Louise Mandrell, Ace Cannon, Jeanne Pruett, Tommy Jennings, Linda Young, The Walker Sisters, O.B. McClinton, Paul Kraft and R.C. Bannon.

The show, which was staged with full concert lights and sound, was videotaped for future use.



WE'VE COME A LONG WAY, BABY — Loretta Lynn — MCA-3073 — Producer: Owen Bradley — List: 7.98

Country music is quickly moving towards a smooth, MOR sound, but Loretta Lynn is one of a handful of artists who continue to record solid country albums. A legend in the business, Loretta's new work is another in a long line of quality LPs which have entrenched the lady at the top of her profession. The best cuts are "We've Come A Long Way, Baby," "The Lady That Lived Here Before" and "True Love Needs To Keep In Touch."

LADIES CHOICE — Bill Anderson — MCA-3075 — Producer: Buddy Killen — List: 7.98

Bill Anderson understands perfectly that his audience is composed almost entirely of female fans, and he aims his material straight for their hearts and minds. The only country entertainer who understands and effectively uses disco, Anderson saturates his new album with the most explicit lyrics heard yet in country circles. His music tends to be tedious and somewhat saccharine at times, but those females seem to eat it up. "Double S" and "I Can't Wait Any Longer" are included here

SOJOURNER — Larry Jon Wilson — Monument — MG-7631 — Producer; Fred Foster — List: 7.98

Larry Jon Wilson is largely an unknown quantity in terms of national exposure, but he is well respected in singer/songwriter circles, and he deserves more recognition. A fine writer and rich vocalist, Wilson's greatest strength may be his ability to collect and record top quality material. If an artist can be judged by his friends, Larry Jon is helped here by the likes of Larry Gatlin and his brothers, Mickey Newbury, Johnny Rodriguez, Janie Fricke and Dave Loggins.

SUPER HITS — Floyd Cramer — RCA — AHL1-3209 — Producer: Floyd Cramer — List: 7.98

Instrumental records are not in strong demand most of the time, but a select number of artists have built a loyal following for their product over the years. Floyd Cramer fits this mold. Every few months, Cramer records an album's worth of contemporary-MOR hits. In this LP, the smooth pianist includes "You Needed Me," "Talking In Your Sleep" and "Let's Take The Long Way Around The World."

improving the annual "October Is Country Music Month" packet.

Fan Fair Committee chairman Bud Wendell spoke about this year's 8th Annual Country Music Fan Fair, to be held June 4-10 in Nashville. It was decided that the $30 registration fee that was charged participants last year would be maintained again this year. A Fan Fair softball committee was also formed to re-evaluate the rules and eligibility qualifications of the annual tournament. Schedules of record company shows, international shows and other events will continue with only minor changes for 1979.

Radio Committee

Neil Rockoff reported for the radio committee, discussing plans for the simulcast of the 1979 CMA Awards Show, and the possibility of CMA's establishing a network to feed a pre-telecast program to participating radio stations. CMA's Broadcasters Kit is now in the process of being updated, with board member Jim Duncan compiling the information. A possible road show, featuring live talent, in the promotion of country music was also discussed.

Frances Preston reported on the planning and development committee, listing several projects which are being studied for the coming year.

Irving Waugh, reporting for the TV committee, discussed some of the plans for the 1979 Awards Show.

International

International co-chairman Bruce Lundvall announced that there would be a meeting of CMA development committee chairmen on Jan. 20 in Cannes, France during MIDEM. The international committee also talked about plans for the International Show at Fan Fair. Announcements were made to the board regarding progress of country music in Australia and other countries.

Don Nelson reported on the activities of the promotion committee for chairman Joe Smith. The committee presented an idea for taking a country music show to New York, Detroit, Los Angeles and Chicago to promote country to advertisers and businesses. They also considered the possibility of a presentation at the NAB convention next year.

Public Relations

Bob Austin reported on the public relations committee about various items, including the NAB convention and the possibility of a country act appearing there. Charlie Scully and Neil Rockoff of this committee will look into the idea.

A "blue ribbon" committee was appointed, made up of members from the public relations, promotion and radio committees, to study road shows and other areas.

Joe Talbot gave the convention study committee report, outlining some of the committee's ideas for the Country Music Convention in October.

The long-range committee, as reported by Joe Talbot, discussed CMA's participation in Musexpo, IMIC and other activities.

CMA's budget for 1979 was approved. Plans were announced for other 1979 board meetings. The second quarterly board meeting will be held April 1-5 in Tucson at the Westward Look; the Four Seasons in Calgary, Alberta will be the site of the third quarterly board meeting, at which time the CMA's board members will be the guests of the Calgary Stampede. The fourth meeting is always held in Nashville during the convention.

NMPA Establishes Forum

NASHVILLE — Under the sanction of the National Music Publisher's Assn. (NMPA), a group of young Nashville publishers met last week at Broadcast Music Inc. and formed the Nashville Publisher's Forum. Similar Young Publisher's Forums have already been established in New York and Los Angeles to help educate young publishers.

According to Acuff-Rose Publishing president Wesley Rose, a vice president and member of the board of directors of NMPA, a young publisher's forum is in the interest of the NMPA because the industry needs the energy and new ideas of young publishers.

"We need new, young publishers," said Rose, who helped organize the first meeting of the Nashville Publisher's Forum. "Publishers are probably the most creative people in the industry because they effect every facet of the business. This forum should act as an educational forum for publishers. There are no dues, and the forum will be completely supported by the NMPA."

Committee Formed

During the first meeting, a committee of 12 was formed to select topics of discussion for future meetings and to select possible speakers for subsequent sessions. International publishing, international law as pertains to collection of monies, contracts and negotiations and the new copyright law were discussed as future subjects of interest to the Nashville Publisher's Forum.

The Nashville Publisher's Forum will hold its next meeting Feb. 12 at the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers. No speaker has yet been chosen for the meeting.

Parton/Burnett Perform To SRO Audiences

NASHVILLE — The Dolly Parton and Carol Burnett television special filmed at Opryland Jan. 10 received the largest request for tickets in Opryland's history. Close to 9,000 tickets were given away within a 45-minute period.

"We started giving away tickets at 9:00 on the Monday morning before the show," said Charlotte Davidson, manager of public relations for Opryland. "At 8:30 that morning the line was about a mile long."

The only other Opry show that might have come close to the demand of the Parton/Burnett taping would have been the 50th Anniversary of the Grand Ole Opry in 1975, she added.

Parton and Burnett performed two complete shows, one in the afternoon and one at night.

Jennings To Play FICAP Benefit

NASHVILLE — RCA recording artist Waylon Jennings will perform a FCC-approved benefit show in Orlando, Fla. at the Tupperware Auditorium Feb. 3 for the Federation of International Country Air Personalities (FICAP).

This is the first of a possible series of benefit shows for FICAP and is the only show Jennings will perform in Florida this year.

The auditorium has a seating capacity of 2,000, and ticket prices are set at $10. FICAP has no other way of generating funds other than through its existing membership dues.

Jennings started his career as a DJ in Lubbock, Tx. in the late '50s.

Lifetime memberships will be given to those artists who do benefit shows for FICAP, and they can be purchased for $1,000.

WVOK Handed FCC Approval

NASHVILLE — Nashville-based broadcaster Mack Sanders recently received FCC approval for takeover of WVOK Radio in Birmingham, Ala.

Contracts were signed for the purchase of the 50,000-watt non-directional station last August, when unofficial transfer came from the previous owners, The Voice of Dixie, Inc.

WVOK operates at 690 on the AM dial and is the second southern radio outlet bought by Sanders. He put WJRB, Nashville, on the air Oct. 17

Both stations format modern country sounds.

Sanders said he is in the market to purchase FM stations in Birmingham and Nashville. At one time he owned the largest chain of all-country music stations in the country, 11 in all.

Caution Byword For Indies

during December, which is supposed to be a big sales month, our sales dropped because, according to our distributors, most stores were only interested in selling super hits."

One of the problems that plague Foof, who is young, and whose records reflect an off-the-wall, rock & roll-inspired sensibility, is the lack of old-line distributors who are actually sympathetic to the music or who treat it as saleable. "Let's face it," says Foof, "distribution is not a young person's game. In an era where rock has been glamourized, distributing has not been the aspect of the music business that has attracted a lot of young blood."

Bruce Kaplan, who heads the Chicago-based Flying Fish Records, remarked, "It's not the most stable situation. Because the larger distributors carry dozens of labels, many of which are selling more records than you, you need at least one or two sympathetic people, and if the guy in sales who is sympathetic to you gets promoted out of the department, you're out of luck. Basically, to have any stature with a distributor who has dozens of other labels, you have to have the visibility of a steady release flow and a track record of albums that have sold, which makes the situation somewhat of a vicious cycle."

New Generation

Bruce Iglauer, who owns the Chicago-based Alligator Records, and whose small catalog consists largely of urban blues artists is a bit more optimistic about the distribution situation. "There is a new generation of distributors, like Record People in New York and House Distributors in Kansas City, but there aren't enough of them. While they are an alternative to the old-line distributors who count on the volume of mega-hits, they themselves are stifled at the retail level by storeowners who are also looking for the super hits."

The problem of compensating for inadequate distribution is one that has been met in different ways. Flying Fish has enhanced its line by taking over the manufacturing of a local jazz label, Nessa. The operation of the Somerville, Mass.-based Rounder Records is augmented by its own local distribution. Co-owner Marion Leighton noted that "your own distribution is your best safeguard against certain pitfalls with other distributors. One is their fluctuating attitudes. They may only be interested because they lost UA last week, and if they pick up another line next week, their interest may fade. Another factor is their instability. A couple are in bad financial trouble, and in the past year a couple have folded. And finally, where we do our own distribution, we sell more records."

Alligator makes up for inadequate distribution by providing extensive tour support and by managing some of its own acts. "We put together Albert Collins' band," said Iglauer, "and an American and European tour for him. But with tour support, we're admittedly spotty. We'll show up for a gig at New York's The Bottom Line, but we may not show at 'So's Your Mother' in Des Moines, Iowa.

"A lot of people who start small labels see them as extended hobbies," Iglauer added. "They begin the labels as fans, then never make the appropriate transition to businessmen." Richard Foof concurs, "I have to take much of the blame for not breaking one of our records. ("Whole Lotta Love" by the Temple City Kazoo Orchestra). I wasn't prepared when it started to break in some areas. I couldn't afford promotion or advertising, and in a couple of instances, distributors worked out local campaigns on the record that I wasn't able to help coordinate."

Radio Tightening

While the relationship between small labels and distributors is not entirely bleak, many manufacturers regard radio as a lost cause. "Since I began seven years ago," stated Iglauer, "radio has tightened up incredibly. Then there used to be four stations in Detroit that would play a Hound Dog Tayler album. Now there are none." Foof noted, "It seems like even the college radio stations have tightened up. Half of the college DJs want to program either FM or AOR style, both of which excludes us."

Even when success comes, it can bring with it a whole new set of problems. For instance, Rounder Records has an artist, George Thorogood, whose latest album, "Move It On Over," is charting Top 100, a phenomenal achievement for a small, folk-oriented label. "Our biggest problem," said Leighton, "is not getting caught up in the machinations of the music business. We're not about to undertake any massive publicity campaigns. We are being wary of distributors who only want to handle George's record and not the rest of the catalog, and we had to make sure that the promotion men we did take on were not regarded as hype-artists. Fortunately, we have a very good working relationship with George, who actually tells us to spend less on him. But there are independent labels who have a perennial problem with their biggest selling acts saying 'we need more.' "

Expanding Jazz Market

Irv Kratka, president of Music Minus One, has seen his jazz label, Inner City, grow along with the entire jazz market. When one of Kratka's distributors learned that Sun Ra, an Inner City recording artist, would be making an appearance on "Saturday Night Live," he proposed an advertising campaign and ordered a number of boxes of the record.

"As it turned out," said Kratka, "Sun Ra was put on for the last couple of minutes of the show, by which time most people had either tuned the show out or had fallen asleep. As a result, our campaign didn't do us much good."

Still, by the standards of many of the indies, an advertising campaign, even if unsuccessful, shows an unusual level of affluence. As Richard Foof pointed out, "We're cautious. We won't make mistakes because we can't afford to. One promotional failure and we're broke."

age of three in St. Louis, when he was billed as "Donny Pitts, the nation's youngest gospel singer." Hathaway later moved to Washington, D.C. where he attended Howard University on a fine arts scholarship. While in Washington, Hathaway resumed his professional musical career and was signed to Atco Records in 1970. One year later, he recorded "The Ghetto," his first hit single.

completely contemporary.

"I know of no other person that has enjoyed more consistency or is respected more by his peers. He has had many hits, and he should have many more."

According to James, "This is a very exciting contract, but it was not just the contract alone that influenced my decision. I like Fred's ideas for the future and the positive attitude and enthusiasm of his staff. I think we will have some big hits together."

James and co-producer Charlie Tallent are reviewing material now, and the two hope to have a single produced by early February. An album is planned for a March release.

The acquisition of Allanson and Williams, Jr. by Elektra is basically a production deal in which the Curb logo will appear under the Elektra Label, Bowen said. He also said there are no plans for the entire Curb roster to be absorbed by Elekta.

Production Deal

"What has happened is the Curb roster has grown too large and there is too much product for them to handle," Bowen said. "This is simply a production deal with Curb through Elektra for these two artists. No other artists have been discussed."

The first single under the new Curb alliance with Elektra is "Words," by Allanson which shipped last week. Williams, Jr. has an album in the can, Bowen said, and the LP should ship in April.

Faron Young, who has recorded with Phonogram/Mercury and Capitol Records during his long career, will move in a new direction with MCA, according to Eddie Kilroy, vice president of A&R for the label.

"We are going in a completely new direction for Faron," said Kilroy, who will produce Young. "In the past, nobody has ever really let him sing. He has been aimed at the hard country market. To me, Faron is one of the great singers in country music. We are cutting him with ballads and contemporary material in order to let him really sing. It is hard to say what is country now, but we are cutting things for him for today's market. The five songs we have already cut are lyrically and musically different from anything he has ever done. He knows how to change, and he welcomes it."

Cyclone Records, which will be distributed by GRT Record Corp. in Los Angeles, was formed by Jim Halsey and Larry Banauch has been named label president. Under an agreement between White Buffalo Productions and J.M. Productions, Johnny Morris is producing Sammi Smith and a single, "What A Lie," will be released this month or in early February.

Morris, who also produces Narvel Felts, Stan Hitchcock and Glen Barber, said Banauch had always admired Smith and wanted a strong artist for its first Cyclone release.

"Banauch approached me on Sammi because she is one of his favorite female singers, and they wanted a major artist to kick things off for them," said Morris, who also manages Smith. "I worked closely with Banauch when he was at ABC, and we have both liked her over the years. Narvel Felts is the only other act I have felt this strongly about. Sammi is easy to work with and quick to learn. When I first heard "Help Me Make It Through The Night" (a million-seller by Smith in 1970), I never dreamed I would have the opportunity to one day produce her."

Smith, formerly with Elektra/Asylum, has won a Grammy Award for "Best Female Vocalist" and several Country Music Association Awards over the past few years.

ON JAZZ

Peters International, well known as one of the leading importers in the U.S. has announced the formation of a new jazz label, West 54. Initial signees are Roland Hanna and Slide Hampton.

Black Saint, one of the leading European avant garde labels, is now being handled in the U.S. by Rounder Record Distributors in Boston. The latest LPs to appear on Black Saint are "Birth and Rebirth" by Anthony Braxton and Max Roach, and "Metamusicians Stomp," with Andrew Cyrille and Maono.

The latest from Chiarascuro is "Natural Layers" by Sam Morrison, a young tenor player who was formerly with Miles Davis.

Jack Kleinsinger rides again! A sixth anniversary concert will be held February 8 at NYU's Loeb Student Center. Featured will be Clark Terry and his Big B-A-D Band and the Bucky Pizzarelli trio.

New from Inner City: "Stolen Moments," Oliver Nelson's last LP. Recorded about four years ago, the LP features a nine-piece band (including a full reed section) of top L.A. pros such as Jerome Richardson, Shelly Manne, Bobby Bryant and Buddy Collette.

Also new is "Only Time Will Tell" by vocalist Peter Dean, featuring such stalwarts as Dick Hyman, Sam Parkins, Ed Polcer and Mike Peters.

Prestige is about to hit with some new reissues, including double albums by Jaki Byard, John Coltrane and Dexter Gordon. No Milestones this time.

Veteran tenor sax man Eddie "Lockjaw" Davis has signed with Muse, and his first LP will be recorded shortly.

Lou Donaldson has given up the organ combo which dominated his scene for the past few years and has gone back to bebop where he made his original reputation. After a recent appearance at Blues Alley in Washington, D.C., he reported that the interest among club-goers seems to favor the straight ahead over the fusion. Donaldson, currently without a recording contract, would be a nice addition to any jazz roster.

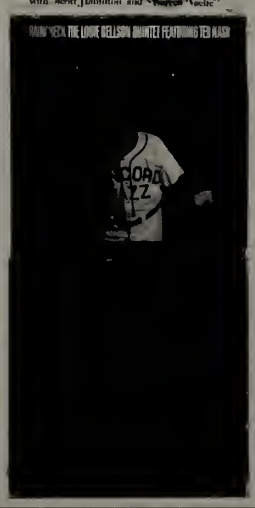
JAZZ ALBUM PICKS

NO HOLDS BARRED — Dave McKenna Swing Six — Famous Door 122 — Producer: Harry Lim — List: 8.98

McKenna has been heard as a soloist most often in recent years, but his piano is no less impressive in a band setting. Scott Hamilton, Al Cohn, Warren Vache, Milt Hinton and Butch Miles complete the cast, and each has superb solo moments. Six standards and a blues all have appeal, and the album is a mainstreamer's delight.

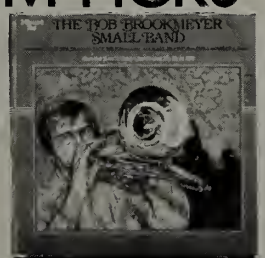
RAINCHECK — Louis Bellson Quintet — Concord 73 — Producer: Carl Jefferson — List: 7.98

Bellson has a fine little band here, including Blue Mitchell and Ross Tompkins, but the big news is alto sax man Ted Nash (son of studio vet Dick Nash). This is his first extended exposure on record and he makes the most of it. He is a player out of Charlie Parker and while that in itself may be unusual in 1979, the fact is that he does it very well. Any of his spots are worthy of veteran players with substantial reputations. A delightful discovery.



STRAIGHT TRACKS — Great Guitars — Concord CJD-1002 — Producer: Carl Jefferson — List: 15.98

The "Great Guitars" are Herb Ellis, Barney Kessel and Charlie Byrd, and the album is Concord's second venture into direct-to-disc. Byrd's bass and drums provide discreet backeach of these veterans provides superb moments. A totally successful venture and a reminder that the DTD process is made to order for intimate music such as this.



'LIVE' AT SANDY'S — The Bob Brookmeyer Small Band — Gryphon G-2-785 — Producer: Norman Schwartz — List: 13.98

This two-album set recorded live last summer in Massachusetts marks Brookmeyer's return to the big-league jazz scene after a 10-year hiatus. Stretching nearly two hours, the trombonist's quartet (with Jack Wilkens on guitar, Michael Moore on bass and Joe La Barbera on drums) mixes standards and original material with an improvisational grade rarely captured in live recordings. Brookmeyer's playing is masterful and the album overall, despite its unwieldy length and unrefined nature, is a triumph.

MISTRIAL — Randy Roos — Spoonfed — SFD 3304 — Producers: John Manchester and Randy Roos — List: 7.98

If you're looking for some hot jazz guitar, pick up Randy Roos' first record, "Mistrial." Roos plays a range of guitars, six and 12-string, electric and acoustic, guitorgan and fretless infinite-sustain, and excels at each one. He leads his quintet through seven original numbers, including the restrained "Inward Stroke" and quite a few fiery instrumentals. As an added bonus, the LP is pressed on clear vinyl.

ANIMATION — Cedar Walton — Columbia JC 35572 — Producers: George Butler and Cedar Walton — List: 7.98

Cedar Walton's new album is one of the brightest, most invigorating jazz LPs released recently. Walton is a top pianist, and his racehorse acoustic and electric piano is modified by outstanding tenor sax and percussion and punctuated by tasty trombones. Highlights include the title cut, a stirring jazz kaleidoscope, Stevie Wonder's "Another Star" and the "March Of The Fisherman."

BLACK CONTEMPORARY

WB Black Mktg. Staff Meets In L.A.

LOS ANGELES — Warner Bros. Records will hold a meeting of all black music marketing local, regional and national personnel in Los Angeles Jan. 22 - Jan. 27 at the Sheraton Universal Hotel. This meeting will mark the first time that local and regional personnel have met in the same place at the same time.

The meeting will focus on developing and implementing new marketing concepts that have been on the testing ground.

Tom Draper, vice president of Warners' black music marketing division, noted, "because of our unprecedented growth in '78, we felt this meeting necessary, mainly to deal with the '79 strategies in keeping and surpassing the last."

Draper attributed Warner's growth in black music to several factors, "We now have better coverage in vital areas of marketing that we didn't have previously. Our comprehensive marketing approach provided the thrust needed to initiate bringing the hits home, and with the back-up of the Warners/WEA team, we couldn't go wrong."

Along with his other projects, Jones will also produce the Brothers Johnson back-up band, which will be doing an album this year featuring guitar player Alex Weir as vocalist. Realizing that the band has a great deal of creative talent, the Brothers have been encouraging them to branch out. Their keyboard player Wayne Vaughn has written several songs, one on Patti Labelle's upcoming LP and one on Con Funk Shun's LP. Lately he and Wanda Hutchinson of the Emotions have been writing tunes together.

All have been adapted to the 'Benson' style, which should make them monsters...Philly International recently signed a female trio, who previously sang back-up for Diana Ross. They are calling themselves the Jones Girls, and they will have an LP out in a few weeks.

BLACK MEDIA COALITION SUPPORTS SALE OF WDAS — The National Black Media Coalition has sent a letter to the FCC, supporting the sale of WDAS in Philadelphia to the National Black Network. Recently a Philadelphia citizens group opposed the sale on the grounds that the station was not initially offered to a potential black purchaser in the Philadelphia area. In its letter to the FCC, the NBMC supports the National Black Network as being a highly respected broadcast firm, which has no reason not to be responsive to the needs of the black population of Philadelphia.

The FCC recently conducted a field investigation of that station's activities, which may also serve as an obstacle in finalizing the sale, until complaints have been cleared.

A&M Change Helps Artists

branches in other parts of the country led us to take this position."

Instead of investing in additional distribution facilities, Moss said he would rather put the money into acquiring, promoting and marketing talent.

According to Moss, A&M Pacific will cease operation within a month. He was less specific, however, regarding the fate of Together Record Distributing, a facility A&M runs jointly with Motown Records in the south.

(Mike Lushka, senior vice president, marketing for Motown, said in view of A&M's pact with RCA it is likely that Together will be shut down.)

"RCA salesmen will now be taking orders for A&M product," Moss said. He added that only A&M sales people will be affected by the move, and only those involved at the local level.

He also said RCA will obviously have to expand its distribution and pressing facilities and hire additional personnel to handle A&M product. "We're hopeful that the people who are involved on the distribution side with us will go to new places in their organization," said Moss.

RCA was chosen, he said, because "they showed the most interest in us and I was impressed with (RCA president) Bob Summer." Moss estimated that together the two companies will account for billing in excess of $300 million.

Moss said the independent distributors have assured him that the transition will be a smooth one. "In speaking with them, more than one said 'If it doesn't work out, we'll be here'," he said.

Founded In 1962

A&M was founded in 1962 by Moss, a former promotion man, and Alpert, who came to prominence in the early '60s as the leader of the Tijuana Brass. Early artists, in addition to Alpert and the Tijuana Brass, included Quincy Jones, Sergio Mendes, Burt Bacharach and The Carpenters.

The label peaked in 1976 with the release of "Frampton Comes Alive," one of the biggest selling albums in the history of the record business. The A&M roster currently includes such artists as Chuck Mangione, Styx, Supertramp, LTD and The Brothers Johnson.

In addition to the A&M label, the company releases product on the Horizon label, whose roster includes the Mark-Almond Band, Dr. John, Neil Larson, David Grisman and Richard Evans.

A&M also has a publishing division, Almo/Irving Music, as well as foreign subsidiaries in Canada and England.

The A&M agreement is the second distribution deal firmed by RCA this month, and the sixth since Robert Summer assumed the presidency of the company last March. The labels, in addition to A&M, include 20th Century-Fox Records, Salsoul, Rocket, Roadshow and Hologram.

joined in the formation of a talent and booking agency.

In 1973, Siegel became involved with Can-Base Productions, Ltd. in Vancouver. Together with Wink Vogel, Siegel shaped Mushroom, the firm's production wing, into an independent label.

After realizing a degree of local success, Siegel decided to move the label to the U.S. Offices were established in Los Angeles in 1976.

Siegel singlehandedly set up a distribution network through independents in order to make Heart's "Dreamboat Annie" LP available nationally. The resulting success of the album and various singles was widely attributed to Siegel's pioneering efforts.

Most recently, Mushroom singer/songwriter Ian Matthews is enjoying marked success with his current single "Shake It" from the "Stealin' Home" album.

Last week, Siegel announced the formation of Mushroom's new disco arm, Chanterelle. The first release by Jim Grady is expected shortly.

High Court Hears CBS Suit

case's involved history before Chief Justice Warren Burger's court, noting that the total license fee for CBS represents well under 1% of the network's gross advertising receipts. (NBC and ABC pay roughly $4 million a year, he said.)

The most unusual aspect of the case in district court, Topkis argued, was that "CBS didn't claim the status of suffering victim, nor had it found that direct licensing wouldn't work." CBS' complaint, according to Topkis, was "all a product of conjecture."

The network has "unparalleled advantages in our society," Topkis said, in that CBS has the right to choose either per-program or blanket licenses and to have court supervision in setting the rates. In a final statement, Topkis said, "it makes sense to negotiate rather than litigate . . . we stand ready."

Amalya Kearse, representing BMI, addressed the question of whether a blanket license is per se a violation of antitrust laws. The Court of Appeals found that blanket licensing was per se illegal, but because of the advantages found it should not be enjoined. (The advantages, briefly, are price and convenience.) CBS is pressing its claim "not on the basis of anything that's happened to CBS," she said, and indeed, artists "would line up at CBS' door if they were told direct licenses were available."

Kearse described the 3M incident in the mid-'60s, when 3M went directly to publishers and got licenses to use tapes of background music (27 out of 35 publishers okayed the contract.) And she outlined the Warner Bros. incident, in which broadcasters refused to deal directly with publishers and preferred to go through a licensing middleman. From these two incidents, Kearse concluded, "it's the user's choice."

From the Justice Department, Office of the Soliciter General, Frank Easterbrook outlined the government's view on per se rules and blanket licensing. The U.S. has not participated in the case up to this point, he noted, but has concern about price fixing and monopoly.

The price ASCAP is charging is less than CBS would pay under direct licensing, Easterbrook noted. He defined ASCAP as a form of joint venture, not negative restraint of trade, and said ASCAP and BMI "have little in common with price fixing cartels." In short, the blanket license offered to CBS produces economic benefits, in the view of the Justice Department.

CBS Charges

CBS counsel Alan Hruska characterized the current licensing methods as "an effective means of eliminating price competition," through what he called "a central instrumentality." He defended the Appeals Court ruling that found the system created a disincentive to compete.

When Justice William Rehnquist asked, "What about two competitors who go into partnership?" Hruska responded that "in this instance we're talking about an entire industry . . . price fixing the most efficient way."

Justice John Paul Stevens pressed further on this point, asking, "Is it unlawful for two companies to use a common sales agent? Or only when an entire market is involved?" Hruska answered that in almost all circumstances it should be unlawful, without regard to the percentage of the market involved.

"Benefits (of a blanket license) like immediate access are not significant. Any cartel can create some benefits, but that doesn't justify price fixing," Hruska argued.

However, the justices disputed Hruska's analogy of the performing rights societies to an oil cartel.

If the blanket license ended, the licensers would be forced to create direct licensing mechanisms which would take "at least a year," Hruska noted. CBS has said in the past it envisions a total bypass of ASCAP and BMI and the creation of entirely new structures to handle the business.

LATIN PICKS

STRANDED IN A LATIN DISCO — Average Disco Band — H&L Records 69033 — Producer: Juan Salazar

Juan Salazar debuts with this album for H&L Records, which is a throbbing mixture of Latin disco music. Most of the songs selected for this album are old standards. The orchestration is just right for disco dancers, and the musicians in this session are superb. The rhythm section is very tight. Best selections are: "Copacabana," "Hey Girl," "Come And Get It," "Love Is The Answer," "Feelings" and "Tico, Tico."

A SPEAR DE TODO — Vicente Fernandez — CBS-Mexico DCS-850 — Producer: Gilberto Parra

Multi-talented singer Vicente Fernandez scores again with another sparkling album that consists of a collection of rancheras and love songs. He has recently been acclaimed as the best ranchero singer in Mexico; and here, he demonstrates why, cut after cut. Likewise, the orchestra backing him in this album is superb. The songs are beautifully suited to his style, with excellent string arrangements. A masterpiece for Vicente.

A LA CARTE — Mongo Santamaria — Vaya JMVS-74 — Producers: Sheller & Allen

Last year's Latin Grammy winner Mongo Santamaria demonstrates his ability to excel in all phases of music. In this album Mongo is trying to make a crossover with "Hey, You Sexy Thing," and "It Feels So Good." The music in this LP is mostly jazz rock, the only Latin song is "Guajiro," a Marcellino Guerra composition. Arrangements by Marty Sheller and William Allen are excellent. The best songs are "Guajiro," "Teresa" and "Na Mas."

LATIN BEAT

La So!: "A fusion of Latin, R&B and jazz." "It's three steps beyond salsa." "Dance jazz with Latin overtones."

Those are among the earliest reactions to a new group, "La So," whose debut album is on MCA Records. The name LaSo is derived from La(tin) So(ul), but there are many diverse elements in their unique sound.

Joe Bataan, who produces the group and is also well known in Latin music as a vocalist, pianist, songwriter and leader of his own band, describes the LaSo mixture as "everything from early R&B from the Alan Freed days to the latest Latin dance rhythms."

One unlikely direction the band takes on several tracks is square dance music. LaSo has brought the hoe-down into the 20th century, making it totally up-to-date for today's dance audience.

Bataan, known as a "street singer," has been active on the music scene since he helped Fania Records "in the bugaloo days of the early '60s." His record "Gypsy Woman," sung in English, was one of the earliest Latin crossover hits, reaching into the pop and soul markets. Joe has performed everywhere from the Berkeley Jazz Festival to the 10th Youth World Festival in Moscow, which he attended with Angela Davis.

The LaSo album is the fulfillment of a concept Bataan had been developing for several years. He selected all the musicians and produced the album for Lorber-Sheer Productions. The LP was placed with MCA Records by Bob Schwid and Reggie Lavons. The music LaSo was arranged by Marty Scheller.

"When you're working on an album, it becomes a dream shared by many people," says Bataan. "The musicians and technicians and the executives who make the deals are all part of it. Then you reach the day when the album is released, and it's no longer just an idea shared by a few people. It belongs to the public. They can ignore it, or they can listen to it and enjoy it. I think they're going to enjoy the music of LaSo."

Crusin/Rosen Productions, in collaboration with Arista Records, has just released the new solo debut LP by the talented Latina songstress Angela Bongil entitled, "Angie." Angela, a native New Yorker who has paid her dues on the N.Y. music scene for several years and who has shared the bill with such musical luminaries as Cannonball Adderley, Dizzy Gillespie and Stan Getz, most recently was the lead vocalist with the New York Dance Theatre of Harlem Chorus, for which she also composed and arranged. Many of you might remember her as the lead singer for Ricardo Marrero and The Group, and her hit single, "My Friend," which got her a Latin N.Y. nomination for best Latin Female Vocalist several years back. Her album cooks and such tunes as "Under The Moon and Over The Sky," "This Time I'll Be Sweeter," and "Rough Times" have already been met with enthusiastic response.

An ecstatically happy Jose Fajardo returned from Abidjan, Africa, where he did a week of personal appearances. Charanga has long been a big favorite. He has enjoyed huge record sales, but this trip proved that he is at the peak of his popularity. Ralph Mercado of RMM booked Fajardo in Africa for the first time. A return trip is already being planned.

Al Santiago has just produced a 45 entitled "Tribute To Miguelito Valdez"/"Luz Para Babalu" on his Gaucho label. Featured soloists are: Tito Puente, Jose Fajardo, Luis "Perico" Ortiz, Bobby Rodriguez, and Frank "Machito" Grillo. Other orchestra members included: Bobby Porcelli, Mario Bauza, Dick "Taco" Mesa, Jose "Pin" Madera, Mario Rivera, Vincent "Jimmy" Frisaura, Ray Anderson, Dave Chamberlain, Dave Glenn, Luis "Perico" Ortiz, Hector "Bomberito" Zarzuela, Roy Roman, Pedro "Puchi" Boulong, Charlie Palmieri, Guillermo Edghill, Mike Collazo, Johnny "Dandy" Rodriquez, Frankie Figueroa, Frank "Machito" Grillo, Jimmy Sabater and Nestor Sanchez. It was arranged and conducted by Jose Madera Jr.

RCA Canada Makes Major Personnel Changes, Restructures Organization

TORONTO — RCA Canada Ltd. has undertaken a major restructuring of its corporate set-up in a move to heighten its international profile and to garner a greater share of the Canadian record market.

Ed Preston, vice president and general manager of the firm's Canadian operations, announced last week four appointments within the executive branch of the company.

John Ford has been appointed director of marketing, Andy Nagy is the company's new director of creative services and international divisions, Ken Gillies will be the new director of operational services, while Bonnie McKeen is the new manager of industrial relations.

The new organizational efforts on the part of the company are intended to improve the firm's local achievements, as well as open up the firm to further expansion if business picks up for them.

Higher Profile

The company is acquiring a much higher profile in this country, due primarily to its increasing commitment to disco and country and western music. Ed Preston stated it is hoped the corporation will further step up its activities within the two musical idioms, while securing further talent in the jazz, rock and MOR genres.

With the additions made at the executive level, the RCA upper echelon includes Preston, Ford, Nagy, Gillies and McKeen, plus David Long (the firm's director of finance and administration), Jack Feeney (director of Sunbury/Dunbar publishing) and Marghi Cocks (the label's administrator of press and publicity).

Wolfman Jack To Bring American Artists To Japan

LOS ANGELES — In conjunction with the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, disc jockey/announcer Wolfman Jack intends to bring over a variety of American musical acts to Japan for performances and personal appearances. Wolfman Jack has recently become a well known music personality in Japan due to his radio broadcasts via the Nippon Broadcasting System in Tokyo.

Wolfman Jack now is heard every Saturday night on Japanese radio, playing American music, discussing U.S. lifestyles and talking about American musicians. His next move will be to personally bring in American acts of all kinds to key Japanese cities, promoting American products.

Wolfman Jack intends to bring over not only U.S. rock acts, but western-type cowboy and Indian shows, U.S.-made western items and various American-style acts. These acts will perform at department stores in Tokyo and other cities in Japan as "good will ambassadors," while in exchange, Japan will send over some of its artists to perform in the U.S.

Avg. Year-End Sales Reported In Japan Mkt.

TOKYO — Year-end sales in Japan this past season did not show a significant increase over the Christmas season sales of the year before, according to a survey of the major retail outlets in Japan.

The top selling records and tapes in Japan this past season could be attributed to the strong showings of such domestic artists as Pink Lady, Chiharu Matsuyama, Alice, Muneyuki Sato, Sera & Twist, Junko Yagami and Kosetsu Minami. This year, international artists fared only moderately well in the Japanese record market, with one exception: the "Grease" soundtrack featuring Frankie Valli, Olivia Newton-John and John Travolta.

The major retailers surveyed in the Tokyo and Yokohama markets included Ginza-Yamano, Shinjuku-Teitomusen, Ikeburo Air Castle, Ogikubo Shinseyi-do, Sapporo Gyokko-do and Osaka Miyako.

TORONTO — The Edge,(a local venue formerly known as Egerton's), launched its new music policy in a big way with XTC this past week. The band told Cash Box in an interview that they may not be staying together much longer. "We've no longer got much of a challenge before us," said one of the band members. "I doubt whether there will be another XTC album." The band was received enthusiastically by the SRO crowd. The Edge, as a facility, leaves much to be desired. The atmosphere is far too cramped.

Streetheart's new disc, "Under Heaven, Over Hell" is due in February. They'll be playing a series of Toronto dates at an assortment of venues. The disc will be produced by Nazareth's Manny Charlton. The band will play a CHUM-FM/CITY-TV simulcast in February . . . Bob McBride, the ex-Lighthouse singer, has parted ways with MCA, and gone over to London Records in this country . . . CANO will play the NECAA campus convention in mid-February . . . Malcolm Tomlinson is in New York, working on a second A&M album.

Anthem recording group Wireless seems to be attracting much attention in this country, with the release of their first disc for the label, "Positively Human, Relatively Sane." The band cut a disc for WEA two years back, but were dropped by the label after the disc failed to sell exceedingly well.

"We've learned a lot since then," drummer Marty Morin told Cash Box. "We were young. Now we have a lot more experience, and it is going to pay off." The band is managed by S.R.O. Management, who have guided the careers of Rush, among others. The band played a few support dates before Christmas, and are soon to embark on an American tour. The disc will come out on Mercury in the U.S. in a couple of months.

A survey by some local sociology students at York University arrived at the conclusion that records cost more in the suburbs than in the city. The story merited a half-page in the Toronto Star. Unfortunately, the survey did not get the reasons right. The students claimed people pay more for discs in the suburbs, so they can shop more conveniently. kirk lapointe

Holmes leaves CBS, where he was in charge of the label.

SYDNEY — The success of albums made by Australian bands like Dragon and the Angels means that several local record companies are becoming increasingly willing to sign newer local acts.

The Hitmen and Mi-Sex are due to sign contracts soon and Flowers are also close to signing after being approached by several companies. And Swanee, signed to WEA, is getting material ready for a first single. But not all the action is with the major companies. The more enterprising local bands have sunk their own money into making independent singles which are mostly distributed through the import record shops.

Ross Wilson, formerly of Daddy Cool, has released a new album and single on the Missing Link label. Several singles have also emerged on the Abel label in Brisbane, including Stamp Out Disco, by Razer.

Jon English has been keeping busy since he finished taping the local hit television series, "Against The Wind." He is releasing on Phonogram the soundtrack album of the series this week, and it should sell well. A single from the album, "Six Ribbons," is already charting well in Adelaide and Melbourne and moving up the charts in Sydney. English will be supporting the American rock group Chicago during its Australian tour this month. peter blunden

Survey Shows Opposition To Japanese Retail Price Maintenance System

TOKYO — The Fair Trade Committee of the Japanese government has disclosed the results of the survey it conducted regarding the effectiveness of the government's currently existing retail price maintenance system, which is a controversial problem facing the Japanese record industry. The committee surveyed a large number of record retailers and labels, asking members of these firms whether or not the retail price maintenance system is needed and to explain why.

According to the survey, approximately 60% of industry figures polled indicated that the system was not benefitting the industry and therefore should be eliminated, but 40% reported that it was necessary.

Lower Prices Seen

Record officials opposed to the system stated that if the system was abolished, record and tape prices would be lowered because the record retail market would become more competitive. In addition, better quality records in terms of technology and design would be available to consumers due to the free competition and greater profits which would exist if the system was eliminated.

Fixed Prices

In support of the system, other industry officials stated that the system has made it possible for consumers to purchase both records and tapes at the same prices throughout the country. Also, the system is contributing to the country's musical culture while maintaining fixed prices for consumers. But most importantly, those in favor of the system noted that small record dealers may be driven out of business by the lower prices of the larger, more powerful dealers should the system be abolished.

Fowley Produces New Zealand Rock Outfit

AUCKLAND — Kim Fowley, Los Angeles-based producer/songwriter, is producing the new album by Street Talk, a popular New Zealand rock group. Street Talk is currently signed by WEA New Zealand, and the band hopes to acquire worldwide distribution for its upcoming album.

Leif Garrett Wins Top German Award

MUNICH — Singer Leif Garrett has won Germany's Golden Otto Award as the country's most popular male singer. Garrett received the award in a presentation made in Munich, during a stop along his current promotional tour of Europe.

Drews Wins Silver

The Otto Awards have been presented annually since 1956 by Bravo Magazine, Germany's largest entertainment-oriented publication, and are based on popularity as determined by a readers poll. Three Otto Awards are presented each year in each entertainment category. Finishing behind Garrett this year and winning the Silver Otto was German singer Juergen Drews. The winner of the Bronze Otto as third most popular male vocalist was Shaun Cassidy, who took last year's top honors.

ATE Is Underway In London

LONDON — A total of 145 exhibitors will be participating in the annual Amusement Trades Exhibition, Jan. 23-25, at Alexandra Palace in London. The convention is regarded as the largest of its kind in Europe and, although the majority of exhibits (stands) are sponsored by European-based firms the American influence is very prevalent both on the exhibit floor and in the attendance ranks. A large number of U.S. companies display product through their respective European representatives, in many cases showing not only currently produced equipment but new products being premiered specifically for the ATE audience.

All types of coin-operated amusement equipment, ranging from pinball machines and jukeboxes to video games, pool tables and kiddie rides, as well as an abundance of gaming equipment, prize machines and related products and services will be featured on the exhibit floor.

In addition to the extensive Bally Corporation exhibit, which will be housed in stand E9-11, there will be a few other American firms sponsoring their own booths, including Ardac, Inc. of Willoughby, Ohio in stand F-2; R.H. Belam of New York, in stand D-1a; Scollon Productions of Cleveland, Ohio, in stand A-Rm-10 and U.S. Billiards of Amityville, N.Y., in stand D-1a.

The significance of this convention to the U.S. coin machine trade is evidenced by the large American representation each year and the 1979 ATE is expected to run true to form, attracting those who attend annually as well as newcomers to the trade.

NAMA Files Brief Opposing Vending Price Bargaining

CHICAGO — The National Automatic Merchandising Association (NAMA) has filed a brief with the U.S. Supreme Court supporting an appeal by the Ford Motor Company in a dispute over whether labor unions have the right to bargain over prices charged in company cafeterias and vending machines.

The Supreme Court recently agreed to hear the appeal from a ruling in favor of the National Labor Relations Board and the United Automobile Workers Union Local 588, which had been issued previously by the U.S. Court of Appeals in the Seventh District (Chicago), said Richard W. Funk, NAMA counsel and director of government affairs.

In its "amicus curiae" (friend of the court) brief NAMA supports the Ford Motor Company position that prices charged to employees in vending machines and company cafeterias are not "a condition of employment" and therefore are not subject to mandatory collective bargaining. The NAMA brief cites the concern of its more than 2,300 members with the case under litigation.

Attendance For 7th State Music Show Tops 400

DALLAS, TX. -- The two-day State Music service and games show attracted more than 400 operators and service personnel Dec. 17 and 18 at the Twin 60 Inn here.

Factory representatives from Bally, Midway, Atari Cinematronics, Rock-Ola, Dynamo and Stern were on hand to show some 50 pieces of new equipment.

The two days of service schools, which ran simultaneously with the games exhibit, featured presentations by Midway, Atari, Rock-Ola, Cinematronics and Stern. Each session was held in a separate room adjacent to the grand ballroom, where the games were on display.

According to State Music's Tom Chatten, the show, now in its seventh year, is the largest of its kind in the southwest. "We hold service schools throughout the year, but this show is unique because it gives the operators a chance to see all the new equipment and go to a service seminar at the same time." By combining the two, Chatten said "the operators and the service people can come in and see what's coming down the line."

In addition to current production models, he said the manufacturers also featured several prototypes that were not shown at AMOA.

Bally And Midway Set To Sponsor Series Of Regional Service Schools

CHICAGO — A program of regional service schools, encompassing the product lines of both Bally Manufacturing Corp. and Midway Manufacturing Co., will be held commencing in February, announced Bernie Powers, Bally's field service manager.

The schools will be held in Reno, Nevada, Chicago, Illinois and Charlotte, No. Carolina and the program will include a series of five-day seminars, three days of which will be devoted to Bally flippers and the remaining two days to Midway games. The curriculum will range from lectures to hands-on trouble shooting the electronic games.

QUALITY CONTROL — The all-important digital scoring displays — where all eyes focus as bonus points ring up — are tested for accuracy by a Williams Electronics, Inc. technician at the firm's Chicago factory. The test is one facet of Williams' efforts to ensure quality production.*

Limited Enrollment

Enrollment is limited to individuals registering through Bally and there is no charge for the schools; however, students must pay for their own transportation and hotel expenses. Powers recommends that hotel reservations be made through Bally, since the factory has arranged for special room rates in conjunction with the school program. Additionally, everyone attending will be provided with all of the material necessary for classroom study.

Each class will begin at 9:00 a.m. and continue until 2:00 p.m. on a Monday through Friday basis. The schools are scheduled as follows: Feb. 12-16 at Howard Johnson's, 10249 W. Irving Park Road, Schiller Park, Illinois; March 5-9, at the Holiday Inn, 1000 E. Sixth St., Reno, Nevada; and April 2-6, at the Sheraton Center, 555 S. McDowell St., Charlotte, No. Carolina.

To register, call Bally at the toll free number, (800) 621-0108, and ask for either Felicia Tornabene or Gloria Kollmayer.

Stern Appoints Four New VPs

CHICAGO -- Four department directors at Stern Electronics, Inc. have been promoted to vice presidents, according to an announcement from company president Gary Stern.

Larry Siegel, who is a native of Southern California and has considerable experience in the coin machine industry, has been named vice president of sales and administration. For the past four years, Siegel owned and operated Pacific International Amusements, a San Francisco-based operating company, and The Original Juke Box and Pinball Store, which deals in home sales. He also served with Segasa of Madrid and Williams Electronics, Inc., where he concentrated primarily on European distribution.

Heading up Stern's marketing activities is Stephen Kaufman, who was named vice president of marketing. As vice president of manufacturing, Alex Darnell will be in charge of plant operations and Marty Rosenthal, vice president of engineering, will direct the company's design and engineering departments.

Commenting on the promotions, Gary Stern said, "The elevation of these four fine individuals to our top administration will add to the expertise, efficiency and success of Stern Electronics."

Other members of the executive team include Sam Stern, executive vice president; John Neven, comptroller and Roger Lundine, director of purchasing.

COIN MACHINE

TOURNAMENT PLAYOFFS — Playoffs in the 4th annual Greater New Orleans Coin Operated 8-Ball Pool Tournament were held in the city's Marriott Hotel in Nov. 26, with 95 men and one woman competing for a share of $2400 in cash prizes and trophies. The event climaxed nine weeks of tryouts during which some 4500 people entered the competition in 32 co-sponsoring locations. As in previous years, the tournament was directed and sponsored by A.M.A. Distributors, Inc. and Lucky Coin Machine Co., Inc. of New Orleans and hosted by Bob Nims, who is chief executive officer of both companies. Buddy Dilberto, sports director of WVUE-TV, officiated at the awards ceremony. Shown above are (l-r): Class A Champion "Big Ed" Collins; Dilberto; former jockey Jerry West, owner of Collins' qualifying location; and Nims; Dalton Bourg, who competed in the Class B playoffs despite being permanently confined to a wheelchair; and several of the 12 tournament referees mapping out final instructions prior to the finals.

CHICAGO CHATTER

The main topic in local coin circles these days is the ATE convention, which opens Jan. 23 at Alexandra Palace in London. Most of the major manufacturers, and many distributors as well, from this area will be represented at the show. Should be another big one this year.

SPOKE WITH Emil Marcet of Valley Company in Bay City, Mich., who is positively elated over response to the firm's "Spectra IV" pinball table. Its debut at AMOA (marking Valley's entry into the pinball arena) aroused considerable domestic and foreign interest and the factory is exerting every effort to satisfy the demand.

A HIT ITEM at Gottlieb these days is the current 4-player "Charlie's Angels" which, for its popular theme and exciting playfield features is being well received — and Tom Herrick couldn't be more pleased about it.

DATELINE SUNNYVALE: Atari's field service manager Fred McCord will be in attendance at ATE and following the show will be joined by field service reps Bob Salmons and Russ MacDonald for a tour of Atari's European customers. Fred and Bob will be covering Sweden, Belgium and London while Russ heads for Paris, Germany and Italy. Bon voyage, guys. On the home front, Fred notes that there will be an Atari school at Portale's in San Francisco, February 22-23 and he's been conferring with Howard Rubin of Atari's New Jersey office for a series of several classes out there over about a week and a half period. Dates to be announced.

NOTES FROM THE LOCAL AMOA OFFICE: While vigorously continuing its numerous membership programs during this new year, AMOA will also devote full energy to what it anticipates will be "a long battle over the location list requirement" of the copyright law. The association's bid for a temporary restraining order was rejected by the U.S. District Court last October, but a suit is still pending on AMOA's application for a permanent injunction — so the battle goes on . . . The 1979 AMOA membership directory is in the works and will shortly be ready for mailing. A very handy reference tool, the directory is distributed free to all members and produced in limited run, but non-members can buy it for $25 a copy . . . The association is also reminding members to register now for the annual Notre Dame Seminar, scheduled for March 9-10 at the O'Hare Hilton in Chicago.

EASTERN FLASHES

Universe Affiliated International, Inc., now fully settled into larger, new headquarters in Roselle, N.J., is currently delivering Playmatic's new "Chance" 4-player pinball machine which, company president Barry Feinblatt tells us, is doing quite well in the domestic market. Barry will be in London for the ATE show and, upon returning to the states, will plan for some service schools dealing with Playmatic's new microprocessor. The schedule is tentatively slated to begin in late February.

THE CLEVELAND COIN-COLUMBUS branch just wrapped up a pair of 2-day service schools on Automatic Products and Seeburg phonographs, respectively. In noting how well the new Seeburg "Disco 160" is selling, distrib's Stanley Knoll mentioned that Cleveland Coin is providing plenty of service back-up with frequent service schools, in the field, conducted by their own service technicians to help familarize ops with Seeburg's sophisticated new system. As for pingames, two of the current biggies are "Phoenix" and "Pokerino" — both from Williams, the factory that's getting "hotter by the game," as Stan put it.

GAME PLAN's "Foxy Lady" is doing extremely well at Bilotta Dist., Newark. Pat Bilotta said it's a very high earning piece at three balls for a quarter in the posh bars and lounges. This cocktail table pingame is also making its mark in area Pizza Huts, he added, and in numerous video game locations which had not previously accepted pinball machines but welcomed the "Foxy Lady."

CALIFORNIA CLIPPINGS

With the annual ATE Show in London just around the corner, a number of west coast manufacturers were understandably nervous last week amid reports of crippling transit strikes in England. And Exidy marketing director Lila Zinter was doubly nervous because she has to catch a connecting flight in Chicago, whose O'Hare airport has been closed with alarming frequency lately due to heavy blizzard conditions in the Windy City. She was optimistic, however, and said that she expects overseas operators to respond well to "Star Fire" and "Ripcord." When asked if the harsh weather conditions in the midwest had had any adverse effect on business, she replied, "The areas hardest hit by the storms seem to be screaming loudest for games."

AT MEADOWS GAMES, president Paul Jacobs said the transit strike in England would take its toll on new games, as opposed to current production models which are already in the showrooms of many European distributors. "The strikes will definitely have an effect on how much new equipment is there," he said. "We may end up with sparse displays in some booths." Following ATE, Jacobs will be contacting customers in France and Italy before returning to the States.

MEANWHILE, AT CIRCLE INTERNATIONAL distribs in Los Angeles, general manager John Scavarda noted that business has been holding steady since the beginning of the new year. Among the hottest sellers, according to Scavarda, is Williams "Phoenix" pinball. He also said he is looking forward to receiving Williams' "Flash," currently causing quite a stir among ops in prototype form. "The operators have been asking for 'Flash; because it has turned in fantastic results on test," he said, adding that the machine may be out sometime in the spring.

STATE ASSOCIATION NEWS

The 1979 Music Operators of Minnesota annual convention and trade show was in progress as we went to press last week. Agenda included a full schedule of business meetings commencing Friday afternoon (19) and continuing through Sunday noon (21); an election of officers; an equipment exhibit and a round of social activities capped by the association's annual banquet and floor show. Among guest speakers invited to address the group were Vic Rye, assistant executive vice president of AMOA; Felicia Tornabene, who is on the marketing staff at Bally Manufacturing Co.; and MOM's new legislative representative, attorney Robert Latz. A drawing for four sensational prizes — two pool tables and two pinball machines — was to be another highlight of the big event. The equipment was donated by two Minneapolis distributors and proceeds from the $100 per ticket drawing go into the MOM treasury . . . The Illinois Coin Machine Operators Assn. is finalizing details for its first digital pinball service school, to be held in Chicago Jan. 22-31. On Jan. 25, the state group's 4th annual pool tournament gets underway and it is expected that some 18,000 people will be participating, to set a new record this year. As a special membership service, ICMOA arranged for the tournament's chief judge, Al Miller, to be available to assist operators on an individual basis. In some cases Miller has visited an operator's office to explain tournament procedures to employees and has even traveled the route to provide enlightenment at the location level — which has done much to generate new interest. Tournament finals are scheduled for April 22, at the Continental Regency Hotel in Peoria and more than $5,000 in prize money and trophies will be awarded . . . The Wisconsin Music Merchants Assn. has a new slate of officers — Russell J. Dougherty (Rapids Coin Mach. Serv.), president; Eugene Urso (Madison Coin Mach. Co.), vice president; and Elmer Schmitz, Jr. (Schmitz Amusement), secretary-treasurer.

7th Annual AMOA-Notre Dame Seminar Set For March

CHICAGO — The seventh annual AMOA Notre Dame Seminar will be held March 9 and 10 at the O'Hare Hilton in Chicago. This year's program will focus mainly on "cost and financial strategies designed to boost profit," according to AMOA. Two of the seminar speakers Dr. John R. Malone and Dr. Kenneth W. Milani, joined by a panel of prominent operators, will provide a thorough analysis of the subjects during the presentation.

The seminar is a special membership service provided by the association each year, in cooperation with the College of Business Administration and the Center for Continuing Education of the University of Notre Dame. It is designed for individuals in the managerial level and, in order to afford full benefits to everyone attending, registration is limited to 70 people. The registration fee is $100, and this includes luncheon on both days.

The entire program is coordinated by Dr. Gerry Sequin, who has been on the faculty of the university's College of Business Administration since 1959 and has served as director of the Graduate Program in Administration and chairman of the Department of Management.

Opening Session

The opening session, on Friday morning, March 9, will be conducted by Dr. Kenneth W. Milani, a professor in Notre Dame's Department of Accountancy. He is also a CPA with impressive credentials in his field, having worked as a cost accountant with Johnson & Johnson prior to entering the teaching profession and also served as a consultant to private business. Dr. Milani's discussion on "Cost Behavior" has been tailored to the needs of a typical AMOA member operator.

"Profitability Through Expense Control and Volume Strategies" will be the subject of the afternoon discussion conducted by Dr. John R. Malone, Professor of Marketing at Notre Dame, who is well known to operators for his frequent participation in the seminar and other AMOA functions and his understanding of the music and games business. Dr. Malone will also discuss "The Economy, Past, Present and Future with Empahsis on Implications for Operators" in an afternoon session on Saturday, Mar. 10.

The program will also include a panel discussion on Saturday morning dealing with cost reducing, profit boosting techniques and during this segment a panel of selected operators will discuss their personal experiences in this vein and participate in a question and answer period. Later in the program, small group discussions, chaired by the various panel members, will be held to further elaborate on each of the subjects covered and a subsequent "summary and evaluation" session will be conducted by Drs. Malone and Milani.

BUSTIN' OUT OF L SEVEN — Rick James — Gordy/Motown G7-984R1 — Producers: Rick James and Art Stewart — List: 7.98

On the heels of his platinum-selling debut album last year, Rick James has returned with a rapid-fire, piercing R&B/disco effort on "Bustin' Out." James, who plays guitar, sings, composes and co-produces on this LP, has developed into a very assured, confident artist who unleashes a crunching, furious-paced workout on the album's several dance numbers. However, James is not limited to performing raucous upbeat songs, as witnessed by his aching, synthesizer-laden ballad, "Spacey Love."

NATURAL ACT — Kris Kristofferson & Rita Coolidge — A&M SP-4690 — Producer: David Anderle — List: 7.98

The latest duet album by this husband & wife team is a varied, engaging package of tender ballads, pleasant medium-tempo tunes and brisk rock numbers. The twosome have become adept at harmonizing together, so most of the songs here work well and provide enjoyable pop/MOR listening. One of the keys to this LP's success is the good choice of material, featuring compositions by Billy Swan, Stephen Bruton, Kristofferson and others.

BREATHLESS — Camel — Arista AB 4206 — Producers: Camel and Mick Glossop — List: 7.98

"Breathless" is an album of such beauty and vision that it's almost aurally tangible when it cascades out of the speakers. Cut for cut, Camel offers an unflinchingly smooth musical majesty which is heads and shoulders above any number of other bands meandering around the nebulous world of progressive-rock. Hats off to the group members for delivering an uncompromisingly polished gem of an album which could emerge as an AOR fave for several months to come.

NOTHING IS SACRED — The Godz — Casablanca NBLP 7134 — Producer: Eric Moore — List: 7.98

On its second album, The Godz has concocted a potent collection of storm-trooping rock 'n' roll that should appeal not only to teenyboppers but to hard-rock fans in general. The Godz employs a typical assortment of guitar-rock licks, but what makes this LP special is that the quartet injects its own colorful personality into the material. Standout cuts include "Gotta Muv," "Rock Yer Sox Auf" and "He's A Fool." For AOR formats.

ALL MOD CONS — The Jam — Polydor PD-1-6188 — Producer: Vic Coppersmith-Heaven — List: 7.98

Although the Jam is one of the top selling and most respected rock bands in England, the trio has yet to break through in America. However, this should change with "All Mod Cons," the Jam's most innovative and compelling effort to date. The group has considerably refined its hard-rock formula on the album, adding sophisticated instrumental and vocal textures while still retaining its kinetic rock 'n' roll style. The LP's best song is "Down In The Tube Station At Midnight," a bonafide classic.

CATCH ONE — Tony Wilson — Bearsville BRK 6985 — Producers: Ron Albert and Howard Albert — List: 7.98

After a successful stint as a key member of Hot Chocolate, British-based artist Tony Wilson is launching a solo career on Bearsville. Already a hit album in Europe, "Catch One" invitingly blends together traces of American pop, disco and British-style rock for a delightful formula. Wilson possesses a catchy, distinctive voice, and he is backed here by several top studio musicians. Top cuts include the single "Try Love," plus "Africa" and "New Orleans Music."

BILLY BURNETTE — Polydor PD-1-6187 — Producer: Chips Moman — List: 7.98

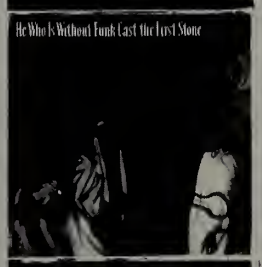
The son of famed rockabilly artist Johnny Burnette, Billy Burnette on his debut album has emerged with a country-rock effort that displays his southern rock 'n' roll roots. Burnette, who wrote or co-wrote the material here, is clearly influenced by the country works of Eric Clapton and Bob Dylan, plus the pop-rock harmonies of Fleetwood Mac. Featuring the backup support of several top southern musicians, this LP includes the upbeat single, "Shoo-Be-Doo."

BALLROOM STREETS — Melanie — Tomato TOM-2-9003 — Producer: Peter Schekeryk — List: 9.98

This two-record set marks Melanie's debut on Tomato Records. "Ballroom Streets" is an elaborate, beautifully packaged album which not only introduces several new Melanie compositions, but contains new renditions of "Brand New Key" and "Candles In The Rain." The LP was recorded live in the studio, using very few overdubs, so the entire set has a very spontaneous, spirited feel to it. Includes the single, "Running After Love."

THE INSIDE STORY — Robben Ford — Elektra 6E-169 — Producer: Steve Cropper — List: 7.98

Ford has played guitar beside Joni Mitchell and Tom Scott in a number of successful ensemble projects and is a respected mainstay in the L.A. session scene. And everybody knows who Steve Cropper is. Their combined efforts make this second solo album a very enjoyable offering of unencumbered fusion, blues and pop styles. A great multi-format record, "The Inside Story" both typifies and ennobles the L.A. sound.



MADAM BUTTERFLY — Tavares — Capitol SW-11874 — Producer: Bobby Martin — List: 7.98

With its eighth album, the five Tavares brothers continue to exhibit the versatile lead and harmony vocals, the crisp arrangements and strong selection of material that has made the group among the top in its R&B/disco/pop field. "Madam Butterfly" is equally divided between infectious dance numbers and tender ballads, and spotlights such first-rate tracks as the single "Never Had A Love Like This Before," "Straight From Your Heart" and the title cut.

MOMENT BY MOMENT — Original Soundtrack — RSO RS-1-3040 — Producer: Various — List: 7.98

Lee Holdridge's lyrical main theme is one of the better recommendations of RSO's latest film offering. This soundtrack album offers five versions of that theme, the finest being Yvonne Elliman's vocal treatment on the LP's single release, and John Klemmer's several sax solos. The remainder of this album is mostly MOR and includes tunes by Michael Franks, Dan Hill, Stephen Bishop and 10cc.

NO MEAN CITY — Nazareth — A&M SP 4751 — Producer: Manny Charlton — List: 7.98

This could probably be the first Nazareth album that incorporates texture and subtlety into the musical proceedings. The addition of erstwhile sensational Alex Harvey Band lead guitarist Zal Cleminson might have something to do with why the total sound and feel of "No Mean City" is less heavy-duty industrial strength rock and roll and even less uni-leveled metallic drone. A natch for AOR acceptance, with at least three possible singles lurking around to boot.

INSTANT FUNK — Salsoul SA 8513 — Producer: Bunny Sigler — List: 7.98

Instant Funk is an energetic new disco/R&B configuration which ably executes tight, pulsing dance tracks and sparkling soul ballads. An invigorating cross between Brothers Johnson-style R&B/disco and Philadelphia soul, this album showcases the arresting lead vocals of James Carmichael and the jumping rhythms of bassist Raymond Earl and drummer Scotty Miller. Best cuts here are "Crying," "Never Let It Go Away" and "I'll Be Doggone."

HE WHO IS WITHOUT FUNK CAST THE FIRST STONE — Joe Tex — Dial/TK 6100 — Producer: Buddy Killen — List: 7.98

Dancin', stompin' Joe Tex is back with his typically charismatic collection of funky dancefloor gems. Throughout most of the album, Tex audaciously shouts and wails his way through such riotous upbeat tunes as "Loose Caboose" and "How Do You Spell Relief." But the singer/composer also demonstrates that he has a more passionate, intimate side, delivering a subtly-powerful performance on "If You Don't Want The Man." A consistently entertaining outing.

BIGHORN — Columbia JC 35618 — Producer: Martin Shaer — List: 7.98

The Northwest's growing reputation as an important music market is further enhanced by this Seattle quintet's debut album. Good piano chops, a great rock and roll lead vocalist, and inspired, if a little too pretentious, writing mark this balanced pop sound rock collection as a sure winner with teens weaned on Elton John or Styx. If this act delivers in concert as well as it does on this record, watch out.

MEDUSA — Columbia JC 35357 — Producers: Skip Drinkwater, John Lee and Gerry Brown — List: 7.98

Medusa is a unique eight-piece outfit which combines an interesting vocal-based, R&B-flavored style with the flamboyant guitar pyrotechnics of a Boston. Cheryl Alexander and Eric Tagg competently handle the group's vocal duties, but the most exciting aspect of the band is Medusa's fiery guitar work and the keyboard passages of James Batton. Suited to AOR formats, with possible R&B potential.

A LA CARTE — Triumvirat — Capitol ST-11862 — Producer: Jurgen Fritz — List: 7.98

Germany's Triumvirat has apparently abandoned its ELP-tainted concept album stance which garnered the band a considerable cult following with its "Spartacus" LP four years ago. In place of its erstwhile keyboard/drum/guitar bombast we now find the band leaning heavily into a slick pop-rock format liberally laced with full-bodied brass overdubs; the end result being instantly more accessible to a potential mass audience.

INTRODUCING DANNY JOHNSON — First American FA 7717 — Producer: Archie Russell — List: 7.98

Formerly a vocalist with the Chi-Lites, Danny Johnson's solo debut effort provides plenty of evidence that this singer is an expert at producing romantic, neoclassical soul recordings. Johnson predominantly utilizes his falsetto voice on the LP, sweetly and stirringly singing such numbers as "Taking My Love For Granted," "Dreamin' Again" and "I Might As Well Forget Loving You." For R&B and possibly disco airplay.

TALENT

Babys

THE WHISKY, LOS ANGELES — The Babys were the embodiment of the New Year's Eve spirit at the Whisky this year. There is a mood about a Babys performance that is particularly appropriate to that night; youthful, but very sophisticated, romantic, yet seductive and optimistic without seeming naive. The Babys are also proficient musicians and professional entertainers, though those qualities are understated to enhance their performance without dominating the show.

But beyond all that, the Babys generate an excitement in a manner one might have thought was lost. (Return with us now to the thrilling days of yesteryear when small roving bands of elegant yet outrageously-dressed long-haired young men inspired the fantasies of millions.) The Babys are fantastic to watch!

Lead singer John Waite has been disencumbered of his bass and is now much freer as a front man. Guitarist Wally Stocker seems more relaxed and Ricky Phillips on bass is a handsome addition to the front line. Though drummer Tony Brock is seldom seen, his presence is always felt. Jonathan Cain gives nice interpretations of keyboard work created by his predecessor.

The music is there. Without it, this band would never have gained their hard-won credibility. From the opening number, "Broken Heart," through the well-known singles, "If You've Got the Time" and "Isn't It Time," to new songs including "Everytime I Think of You," "Head First," and "Run to Mexico," the drums and bass are powerful, even heavy, the guitar is enticing, the keyboards are lovely and above it all soars John Waite's distinctive vocals. The Babys' sound has become well-defined, but there's already a hint of new sounds to come with Jonathan Cain's "Stick to Your Guns."

Tom Waits
Leon Redbone

HUNTINGTON HARTFORD THEATRE, HOLLYWOOD — Two of pop music's most unusual characters ended their recent tour with a three-night stand at Hollywood's Huntington Hartford Theatre, a venue primarily used for legitimate theatre or at least one-man (one-woman?) shows. But the booking wasn't that much of a stretch, because Tom Waits and Leon Redbone are both highly theatrical performers.

In fact, calling Waits theatrical is like calling Rodney Dangerfield self-effacing. From the moment the curtain went up for his set, showing Waits under a thin beam of light wearing a dark suit, head down, the soul of desolution dragging on a cigarette, his song-poems about life's underbelly painted vivid images of a range of skid row denizens. His gravel-voiced crooning remained cool and captivating, whether Waits wrenched his vocals out alone at center stage or from a piano stage right.

It's easy to fall under the spell of Wait's woozy demeanor and dismiss his music as secondary to his persona. But the music is deceptively clever, sometimes winding bits of familiar tunes into his songs and always fitting Waits' lyrics like a glove. There were several high points in the set, especially when jazzy shadings were introduced, but the image of Waits gurgling a song between drags on his cigarette in front of such props as a set of gas pumps and half a convertible will probably remain longest in the minds of Waits' fans.

Leon Redbone is another unique character, always sitting in his frock coat, wearing a straw hat and a red carnation in his lapel. Somewhat like Waits, he sings in a friendly growl of a voice, but his material is mostly oldies from the '20s and '30s.

Redbone opened his set alone on stage and was later joined by a tuba and a clarinet. But with or without accompaniment, he was always in complete control, warbling delightful ditties and playing with the audience. At one point he reversed the age-old problem of fans popping flash bulbs at performers and took his own shots at the audience.

"Shine On Harvest Moon," with a tasty whistling lead-in, was Redbone's strongest number in a consistently rewarding set. Combined with Waits' excellent performance the whole show was easy to summarize — weird but wonderful.

Richard Pryor/
Patti Labelle

SHRINE AUDITORIUM, L.A. — Seeing Richard Pryor in person brings alive the hilarious experiences chronicled on his best selling albums. Though he uses no props, Pryor is able to take the simplest incident and make it come alive, giving one the feeling that he is in fact reliving the incident. He has mastered the art of choosing an incident that each person in the audience is able to relate to at some point in their lives. Be this incident some childhood antic, or an every day occurence like a funeral, Pryor will take every minute detail and hold it up to ridicule, forcing the audience to laugh at itself.

Pryor still relies on extensive utilization of profanity in his show, though he does seem to have slightly toned down his racial jokes. Taking a more humble attitude to his show as a whole, he mainly told jokes surrounding his past year of problems, and at one point stated, "I'm glad to see that anybody came to see me, as much trouble as I have been in lately."

Opener Patti LaBelle was in very good voice, though that particular venue did not do her talents justice. Her label seems to be doing an excellent job of easing her into a new image, from her dress to the type of songs she is singing. The change is subtle but definitely apparent.

She began by singing some of her LaBelle hits, backed by guitar and bass players who seemed to slip into that situation well. Patti's dress was elegant, with an avant-garde flair, but not nearly anything like her former LaBelle attire.

Player

THE ROXY, L.A. — Though Player performed in Los Angeles only 10 days earlier, opening for Heart at the Forum, the Roxy performance was by far more enthusiastic. The vocal quality of Peter Beckett was clearly his best effort as he belted out a mix of songs with a blue-eyed soul feel and others that showed they are rockers at heart.

Each musician was excellent not only individually, but as a foursome, their instrumentals blending to rival that of many top rockers. The harmonies of the group sounded as if they had been singing together all their lives. The group flowed through tunes like, "Silverlining" from their recent album, "Danger Zone," then building the tempo of their performance to the time they sang their gold single, "Baby Come Back."

Player are four attractive musicians who have the talent to attract top producers like Dennis Lambert and Brian Potter, who have guided them straight to "Hitsville."

Bill Medley
Dottie West

THE PALOMINO, NORTH HOLLYWOOD — It was United Artists night at the Palomino when Bill Medley and Dottie West recently headlined a show hosted by the label's top male artist, Kenny Rogers. Rogers only sang during two duets with West, but the quality of the show was top-notch nonetheless.

Medley employed a charming, modest stage presence along with his deep and rich voice to entertain not only the overflow crowd at the Palomino, but also many other country fans tuned to KLAC, which broadcast the concert live. By mixing Righteous Brothers classics like "You've Lost That Lovin' Feeling" and "Soul And Inspiration" with traditional country material and pop covers, Medley displayed an impressive range and kept his set fast-paced.

Perhaps Medley's best number was "Brown-Eyed Woman," written for him by Barry Mann and Cynthia Weil and featuring his grittiest vocals and excellent arrangement. His rendition of "Lay A Little Lovin' On Me," the title cut from his upcoming album, bodes well for the new LP.

Dottie West opened for Medley. The highlights of her set were two duets with Rogers, including their hit single "Every Time Two Fools Collide," but throughout her 11 songs West proved herself a fine country vocalist. Dressed in jeans and a pink sequin see-through blouse, the talented redhead wove a combination of past hits, cover songs and folksy patter into winning show.

Pirates

HURRAH'S, NEW YORK — Hurrah's strengthened its reputation as one of New York's best new rock clubs by hosting the seminal British rock and R&B group, the Pirates, who in turn proved that they are hot on the comeback trail. The group, whose roots trace to the early '60s as backup group for the late British rock star, Johnny Kidd, reunited recently for a one-shot revival, but their intense, brand of power trio music has been received so well that they've chosen to keep going.

At Hurrah's, the group, composed of guitarist Mick Green, bassist/vocalist Johnny Spence, and drummer Frank Frawley, played a torrid set that drew substantially from their two Warner Brothers LPs, "Skull Wars" and "Out of Their Skulls." The set began with Chico Holiday's "Please Don't Touch (I Shake Too Much)" and ended with their reinterpretation of their original "Shakin' All Over." In between they sandwiched a number of tunes from the repertoire of the legendary rockabilly group, the Johnny Burnette Trio. Combining the jagged rhythms of the Burnette group (their predecessors) with the amplified interaction of the Jeff Beck group (their successor), the trio produced hard-rocking synthesis that portended this group's sustained success.

Marshall Chapman

CELLAR DOOR, WASHINGTON, D.C. — A sizeable southern contingent filled Washington's leading showcase recent to applaud Marshall Chapman on her comeback tour.

The crowd was especially appreciative of a number from Chapman's most recent album, "Jaded Virgin" (Epic), the tongue-in-cheek "Why Can't I Be Like The Other Girls." Other songs from the LP were performed energetically to strong response, starting with "I Forgot To Put The Music On," and including "Turn The Page," "I Walk The Line," "Give It Away" and "You Asked Me To."

A Hank Williams-inspired song ("Thank You Hank"), about what Chapman calls the "tacky metropolis" of Nashville, was typical of Chapman's raucous rockers with laughs. Perhaps the most visually interesting number, with Chapman dancing and peeling off layers of clothing down to a black leotard top and jeans, was "In Your Rock & Roll Clothes."

Bob Seger's "On The Road Again," which Chapman noted suits her own life story perfectly, was a highlight.

Altogether a fun, compelling, performance.

Tanya Tucker

THE ROXY, L.A. — Say goodbye to country girl Tanya Tucker. At the tender age of 20, Tanya has blossomed into one of the most exciting rock 'n' rollers around.

Sure the C&W influences are still there, but in her Roxy debut Tanya lived up to her new-found image as a rocking blonde bombshell. Backed by a seven-piece band that's as powerful as its name, TNT, Tanya conveyed a physical, vocal and musical excitement that had the overflow crowd in a near frenzy. She relied mostly on songs from her bulleting "TNT" album, but rewarded old fans with a healthy dose of her old hits, too.

Wearing a skin-tight black sequined body suit and beige scarf, Tanya came out sizzling with "Lover Goodbye" followed by her current single "Not Fade Away." While all eyes were riveted on Tanya's polished sensuality, Jerry Swallow's lead guitar and John Hobbs' boogie-woogie piano were subtly superb.

Tanya's impeccable taste in material and arrangement are another key ingredient in the show's success. She has been likened to a female Elvis Presley of late and she gave credence to the comparison on such Presley tunes as "Big Hunk O' Love" and "Heartbreak Hotel," perhaps her strongest number. John Prine's "Angel From Montgomery" and Chuck Berry's "Brown-Eyed Handsome Man" were also perfectly suited to Tanya's animated performance. But despite her captivating stage presence, Tanya never stifled the rich, explosive sound of TNT.

After proving her rock 'n' roll skills, Tanya belted out a medley of her early hits ("the reason I'm here tonight") including her first record from her days as a teenage country prodigy, "Delta Dawn." And to show she hasn't forgotten her roots, she closed her too-brief set with "Texas (When I Die)," complete with three Texas flag-wavers.
